By Neil Fater

Some of Sam Campbell's strongest supporters will help choose his replacement.

Dr. Campbell, the departing principal of West Middle School, was asked to resign back in March by Dick Neal, then-interim superintendent. Mr. Neal, now the new superintendent, ultimately will select Dr. Campbell's successor himself.

However, two committees – a paper-screening committee and an interview committee – have been formed to assist Mr. Neal by narrowing down the field of candidates he will review. Most members of these two com-

Youth want action on center

By Neil Fater

Tired of merely dreaming of a youth center, the Youth Council asked selectmen Monday to once-and-for-all decide how they feel about building a youth center at Recreation Park – and to do so by June 15.

Council members said they were surprised by some selectmen's recent comments that the Rec Park site won't work and requested town officials take a leadership role in choosing a youth center site.

"We're hopeful that more people will get interested and involved in the process and it will take shape from the top down. We'd like one consistent statement for people to stand by," said Bill Fahey, youth services coordinator, Tuesday. "We believe Rec Park's the place, but if the community seems to be having a problem with it, perhaps they can find another place."

Cole brothers recall war in the Pacific

By Joan Brown

Fifty years ago today, brothers Al and Ted Cole, then of Florence Street, were in the midst of World War II action. Though victory in Europe came earlier in the month, fighting was still going strong in the Pacific theater.

"All the American troops were prepared for an assault, a landing after V-E Day," said Al Cole, then an Army officer. "All the soldiers over there were just as happy as those in Europe. We knew it wouldn't be much

Ed Reform means more teachers and class time in '96

By Neil Fater

Thanks to lumbering trucks and rattling jackhammers, Andover High School students literally will see their school change around them next year. But the largest changes may come from a more silent source – the state's 1993 Education Reform Act.

As a result of education reform, students will not have study halls, lunch periods may be shortened, open-end days probably will be eliminated and the class of '96 may stay in school as much as two weeks longer than the seniors who will graduate this year.

From a taxpayer's point-of-view, education reform could mean increasing the number of High School teachers by as many as 10 to 15 percent.

And this is just the beginning.

"There's a lot of things around the Education Reform Act that are going to cause us to look at the way we do things in Andover," said Dick Neal, superintendent. "The whole time and learning issue, particularly at the High School, is going to cause us to look at the way we organize the schools, the way schedules are

Parents present Dick Neal with principal petition signed by 400

By Neil Fater

It's been more than two months since Sam Campbell offered his controversial resignation and some parents still are trying to convince Dick Neal, superintendent, that Dr. Campbell should remain as West Middle School's principal.

According to Hannah Gentilcore, Fossen Way, nearly 400 parents signed a petition asking Mr. Neal to offer Dr. Campbell a new contract.

Nancy Groff, a parent and West Middle school council member, met with Mr. Neal Monday and presented the petition to him.

"I felt, under the circumstances, that it was as positive a meeting as it could have been," said Ms. Groff. "My intention at the meeting was to let him know that a lot of people felt and feel that we should re-institute Sam Campbell."

'My intention at the meeting was to let him know that a lot of people felt and feel that we should re-institute Sam Campbell.'

Nancy Groff

"I feel he's more informed than before, because he realizes it isn't a little group" that's concerned about this issue, she said.

Ms. Groff said offering Dr. Campbell a contract would do more than simply start the much talked about healing process.

"It wouldn't just put a band-aid on the wound, it would heal it," she said. It would also "show us what we want to believe - that he is our leader as superintendent and an entity apart from the School Committee."

What's open Memorial Day?

Monday, May 29, is Memorial Day. [See Page 1 for related stories and the Memorial Day special section inside for schedules of community events.]

The Townsman offices will be closed Monday. Deadlines for news and display advertising are early for next week's paper.

News and display advertising are due tomorrow, Friday, at noon. The deadline for classified advertising remains the same: Tuesday at noon.

The following are closed on Memorial Day: Memorial Hall Library, schools, liquor stores, town offices, the Senior Center, banks and post offices.

Some retail stores will be open. Because there is no trash pickup Monday, trash pickup is delayed for all locations in town one day.

There will be no local bus service Monday, no Weebus Service, and the commuter rail will run on a Sunday schedule.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Seniors set deadline for Senior Center options

Council on Aging members have set a July 1 deadline for any person or group wishing to present in writing an alternative proposal for expansion or relocation of the Senior Center. If no acceptable alternative is offered by that time, they will proceed with plans to expand in their current location.

Since voters at April Town Meeting approved the Council's request to expand in the current location, on Whittier Court, members have been approached with other proposals, according to Dorothy Bresnahan, Council chairwoman.

"We have been asked by several groups in town to hold off. There might be some other options," Ms. Bresnahan said last week.

As a courtesy to those groups, the Council has delayed moving forward on the expansion. But nothing has happened, she said.

"So, as of July 1, if nothing has come of it, we have decided to go ahead right then and there with the renovations," Ms. Bresnahan said.

Ms. Bresnahan and Bill Ryan, Council vice chairman, are the official spokespersons for the expansion project. [See related letter from Ms. Bresnahan, page 38.]

Campbell reception is for West Middle families only

The June 13 reception at West Middle School honoring Principal Sam Campbell is a private affair; it is only for those whose children attend that school. Children are welcome in the company of parents.

Organizers of the event said that Dr. Campbell wanted a West-Middle School only party and they said if others attended there could be a space problem.

Shawsheen Square work begins today

The final construction phase for traffic changes in Shawsheen Square, the North Main/Haverhill/Lowell streets intersection, is scheduled to begin today, Thursday, May 25. Construction will take approximately two weeks to complete the following improvements:

- Construction of an exclusive left turn lane northbound adjacent to the existing island on North Main Street for vehicles turning left onto Lowell and Poor streets and associated traffic signal phasing;

- Reconstruction of the North Main Street traffic island and sidewalks disturbed during construction;

- New pedestrian signals, crosswalks and handicapped access for pedestrian crossings on North Main Street;

- Reconstruction of the exit driveway for the town parking lot east of North Main Street to allow right turns only onto Haverhill Street.

IRS to plant tree for Oklahoma victims

Employees of the Internal Revenue Service in Andover will plant a tree in remembrance of the victims of the Oklahoma Federal Building bombing tragedy Thursday, May 25, at 2:30 p.m. Children from the IRS on-site childcare center will take part in the ceremony.

A six-foot dogwood was purchased with donations from employees. All other monies donated will be given to the "OK Fund" to benefit the families of victims of the Oklahoma tragedy. The dogwood tree holds special significance as President Clinton explained in his speech on April 23. Because of the dogwood's wonderful spring flower and deep enduring roots, "it embodies the lesson of the Psalms, that the life of a good person is like a tree whose leaf does not wither." John Nardoza of The Natural Tree and Landscape company has donated his time for this effort.

Vets invited to march

The Andover Patriotic Holiday Committee extends an invitation to all Andover veterans to join in paying tribute to the memory of all veterans of past wars by marching in the Memorial Day parade Monday, May 29, and attending the memorial services at Memorial Auditorium. The parade is scheduled to start at 9:30 a.m. and the memorial services at 10:15.

Report to the starting area of the parade at the corner of Florence and Elm streets at 9 a.m. to be placed with other veterans in the second division of the parade. Uniforms or parts of uniforms may be worn, but are not necessary.

Disability group seeking members

The newly-formed Commission on Disabilities needs volunteers for the nine-member board. The commission meets twice a month to address the issues concerning Andover and its citizens with disabilities. Any town residents interested in becoming part of the commission should send a resume and a letter of intent to Mark Walker, Northeast Independent Living Program, 20 Ballard Road, Lawrence, Mass., 01843.

Library open on Saturdays this summer

Memorial Hall Library will be open Saturdays through the summer from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. The library will be closed Sundays.

In the past, the library was closed weekends during the summer. The schedule this summer is: open every Saturday, except Saturday, July 1, and Saturday, Sept. 2.

Andover women earn laurels for accomplishments

By Alix Driscoll

Lynne Taylor Drizen does it all.

Dr. Drizen is an orthodontist with practices in Andover and Essex, a summa cum laude graduate from Boston University Dental School, a mentor to young women trying to pass their dental hygienist boards, and a mother of three sons. Ryan, age 3, was born while his mother was in dental school.

Dr. Drizen was selected the Tribute to Women in Business and Industry's grand winner at the 12th annual awards luncheon, sponsored by the Greater Lawrence YWCA, last Wednesday, May 17. She was chosen from a field of 18 honorees, eight of whom live or work in Andover.

The energetic dentist schedules her work day around her children's schedules and her patients needs. Because brace-tightening is more convenient after soccer or baseball practice, she keeps her office open from 6:30-9 p.m.

After completing undergraduate school, working for Andover dentist Thomas Lamson as a hygienist for several years and teaching at Forsyth School for Dental Hygienists, she entered dental school.

She shares chores with her husband, Ken, also an orthodontist, and sons, Chris, 16, Matt, 14, and Ryan.

Other honorees

Patricia H. Edmonds raises an extraordinary amount of money graciously. The first woman in Phillips Academy's 217-year-old history to hold the post of secretary of the academy, Ms. Edmonds established the special gifts Capital Development Board, which has raised more than $100 million for the academy in 10 years. She directed the Addison Gallery fund. The Elm Street resident has been a faculty member of both Abbot and Phillips Academies, chairman of the trustees of Memorial Hall Library and officer of the League of Women Voters.

Marsha McDonough, directs the 1,500 pupil Greater Lawrence Technical School on River Road, the second largest tech school in the state. She contributes to the Massachusetts Commission on Core Learning and the state School-to-Work task force. Last year, the Tech School participated in a Total Quality Management pilot program and was selected as a training site for teachers using this system of accountability. Ms. McDonough is married to a career educator and has a college-age son.

Norma A. Gammon, 115 Abbot St., currently heads Andover's 350th Celebration Committee, a two-year stint. As community services librarian, Ms. Gammon devises special programs and printed materials and organized the Historic Footprints brick patio. After earning degrees from both Tufts University and Museum of Fine Arts School, the Andover native taught art and crafted watercolors until she discovered the challenges of civic and volunteer life. Ms. Gammon was a selectman during the boom days of 1979-1985. On her watch, two years as chairman, the town built substantial additions to Memorial Hall Library and the water treatment plant, and renovated both Old Town Hall and town offices. She served on the Conservation Commission and Finance Committee. She and her husband, Don, have two daughters, Daina and Erin.

Until five years ago, Ann Cleveland Lange was committed to a role as a nationally lauded flower-arranger with a specialty in metal sculpture, and a master judge for flower exhibitions. She offered expertise and support to many community organizations, including Lesley College, Lawrence General Hospital and Abbot Academy Assoc. Upon the death of her husband, Robert Lange, the Holt Road resident took over and patiently learned his court reporting business. Ms. Lange manages a staff of 35 and competes in the Boston judicial scene.

Carol Bateson, chief executive officer of DEC-Tam Corp., is responsible for the more than 100-employee asbestos and lead abatement company in Lowell Junction. A leader in the construction industry, Ms. Bateson earned two management degrees while working in this non traditional field. She donates a portion of the company's resources to non-profit organizations.

Anne M. O'Brien, of Washington Park, directs the Pollard Memorial Library in Lowell. After an extensive volunteer career, she studied for Master of Library Science degree and worked as assistant director of Memorial Hall Library, followed by her present position where she has increased circulation 200 percent. Ms. O'Brien was recently president of the Massachusetts Library Association.

Barbara J.T. Roselle, a technical manager at AT&T, supervises a group that is developing communications specifically for use in Japan. She earned a degree in electrical engineering at Cornell University and a graduate degree in computer science from University of Michigan. A mother of two elementary school children, Ms. Roselle volunteers as a computer specialist at her youngsters' school.

Understanding Chiropractic

by Mark F. DeLorenzo, D.C.

IS SURGERY NECESSARY?

Discs are the fibrous cushioning pads located between the bones of the back that function as shock absorbers. Due to normal wear and tear and/or strain, they may bulge or herniate to create a condition which is popularly known as a "slipped disc." Many people with bulging discs do not experience any pain. Others, however, suffer pain as a result of the herniated portion of the disc having exerted pressure on an adjacent nerve. This pain leads many to conclude that they require surgical correction, which makes disc surgery a commonly performed procedure in the U.S. The fact is, however, that surgery should only be considered when more conservative measures fail to bring relief or when muscle weakness develops. Chiropractic offers non-invasive treatment of disc problems.

A. DELORENZO CHIROPRACTIC GROUP, we suggest you try chiropractic care first. Pain is nature's way of signaling something is wrong. The longer the symptoms are treated with drugs, the more you are gambling with your health. Remember, if you ignore your health it will go away. Located at 15 Central Street, we utilize the most advanced and comprehensive equipment and procedures to deliver the finest chiropractic care. To schedule an appointment please call 475-5042.

P.S. Once the pain of a herniated disc subsides, exercises can be undertaken to correct posture, improve flexibility, and strengthen muscles to prevent recurring injuries.

THE REAL ESTATE CORNER

with Jean Fitzgerald &
Pamela Lebowitz

HOW DO REALTORS FIND BUYERS

When a home owner tries to sell "By Owner", they basically use two techniques to get the word out - a plastic sign from the local hardware store and classified ads in the local newspaper. When a seller lists their home with the professional Realtor, however, a very sophisticated process begins in order to make things happen.

Realtors have a backlog of prospective buyers for the homes in their market. Through the Multiple Listing Service they cooperate with other brokers in the area who will show your home to their prospective buyers. Professional Realtors also combine direct mail, telephone calls, and specialized advertising techniques to reach the sales market. In this way they create activity on their listings that help them to sell quickly - and for top dollar.

If you are considering a move, contact the professionals at Century 21 Carriage House. Call us at 475-1243, or stop by our office at 10 High Street.

BUSINESS

Timothy A. Davenport

A former senior executive of Lotus Development Corp., Timothy A. Davenport of Andover, has been named to the newly created position of president and chief executive officer of Best Programs Inc., developer of business software, including M.Y.O.B.

"Tim Davenport is a proven builder of organizations," said Best co-founder and chairperson, James F. Petersen. "He will run the day-to-day operations so I can focus more time on our next innovations."

Tim Davenport

Mr. Davenport headed the Notes Developer Tools group at Lotus and was responsible for development and marketing of several products. He joined Lotus in 1987 to manage the graphics products division. During his seven years in the graphics division, Mr. Davenport spearheaded the effort that created the award-winning Free-lance graphics for windows and propelled the division to a five-fold increase in revenues.

Mr. Petersen said Mr. Davenport was his first choice and the unanimous choice of the board of directors for the new position.

Mr. Davenport holds a bachelor's degree in economics and a master's degree in business administration, both from Harvard University. Prior to joining Lotus, he was vice president of product marketing for Decision Resources, a division of Ashton-Tate Corporation.

Patricia Edmonds

Patricia Hope Edmonds of Andover, acting secretary of Phillips Academy since 1993, was named secretary retroactive to that date.

Ms. Edmonds, who will retire on June 30, becomes the first woman in the school's 217-year history to be named secretary, the top fund-raising post at the school.

The resolution affirming her appointment noted, "The board of trustees expresses its appreciation to Pat Edmonds for her many years of excellent service and its admiration for her extraordinary professional competence."

Ms. Edmonds has served since 1970 in many capacities, including English teacher at Abbot Academy, director of foundation and corporate support, director of the Addison Gallery of American Art campaign and director of capital development.

Peter Ramsey, vice president for resources and public affairs at Wellesley College, will become secretary of the academy on July 1.

Diane E. Fleming

The board of directors of First Eastern Mortgage Corporation, 100 Brickstone Square, has announced the appointment of Diane E. Fleming to the position of executive vice president. Ms. Fleming joined First Eastern shortly after it opened in 1984. She was promoted to vice president of closing in 1986 and has been responsible for all secondary market activities for the last four years.

Ms. Fleming was also elected a director at the annual meeting of shareholders.

New VNA employees

Phebe M. Goldman, executive director of the Home Health Foundation, 1 Union St., recently announced the addition of new staff members to VNA HomeCare, a foundation agency.

Melissa J. Smethurst of Wilmington recently joined the agency as a public relations assistant in the community education department. She will assist in public relations, desktop publishing and database maintenance. Ms. Smethurst has previous experience in desktop publishing, graphic design and interior design.

Susan Carpenter, R.N., recently started as an IV nurse with VNA HomeCare's IV therapy team. She will provide treatments and medications in the home. Ms. Carpenter was a registered nurse at Lawrence General Hospital.

Theresa T. Russo, R.N., CRRN, joined VNA as a rehabilitation nurse. She will coordinate patient care and assist individuals with disability or chronic illness toward restoration and promotion of maximal health. Ms. Russo was a rehabilitation nurse at the Braintree Rehabilitation Stroke Unit.

Debra L. Iannalfo joined the agency as a home health aid. She will provide personal care and meal preparation for VNA's elder patients. She was a home health aid with Haverhill Home Health VNA.

David Clark

Andover resident David Clark just returned from Nienburg, Germany, where he taught bass, jazz improvisation and coaching ensembles. He also concertized with the Berklee All-Stars in a one-week clinic presented by Berklee College of Music at the Landesmusikademie for more than 100 students from Germany and other European countries.

New business opens on Main Street

By Joan Brown

Main Street Salon, which opened recently, offers a variety of services, including precision hair cutting, perms, colors and manicures.

"Haircuts, on a first-time visit, are always 20-percent off," said owner Debra Tarshi. Her prices vary, with haircuts starting at $20.

Nail services are by manicurist Mary Napoli. "I'll tell you, she does beautiful work," said Ms. Tarshi.

Ms. Tarshi and several of her stylists previously worked at Dellaria Salons. When Ms. Tarshi saw a small "for-sale" sign in the window of the 40 Main St. store, she decided to buy the store and open her own salon.

"This is the best location," said Ms. Tarshi. "I can't believe it."

The shop has already developed quite a following, she said. "Business is very good. It's been going well."

Main Street Salon is open Monday and Saturday 9 a.m.-5 p.m.; Tuesday through Friday, 9 a.m.-8 p.m. Phone is 475-7072.

Andover Bancorp income is up

Andover Bancorp Inc. announced first-quarter net income of $2.5 million or 60 cents per share compared to $1.6 million or 37 cents per share for the corresponding quarter in 1994, an increase of 62 percent.

The current quarter's results included a net gain on the sales of securities and loans amounting to $146,000 compared to a net loss of $281,000 in 1994. Operating earnings (before asset sales and taxes) rose 48 percent to $4 million for the first quarter of 1995, as compared with $2.7 million for the comparable quarter in 1994.

The company's board of directors declared a cash dividend of 10 cents per share, payable on May 16, to stockholders of record on May 1.

Neighbors to help find field site

By Neil Fater

In an effort to reach agreement on the best site for the three new ball fields approved at Town Meeting, Peg Campbell, community service programming coordinator, and town youth-sports organizations are gathering input from people who live near the proposed field sites.

Town Meeting approved funds for building two soccer and one baseball field in town, and gave selectmen and the School Committee 90 days to determine the best site.

"What we'd like to do is find some place in town that people are excited about the fields," said Dan Cote, Andover Soccer Association president. "Our plan is to, within the 90 day time period, come to consensus with all the neighborhood groups."

Andover youth sports organizations are holding a meeting Wednesday, May 31, at the West Elementary cafeteria, from 7:30 p.m. to 9 p.m., to hear from neighbors of the potential playing field area near the intersection of High Plain Road and Cross Street.

Sunday, Ms. Campbell, sports organization leaders and some residents toured some of the towns current proposed field sites.

These sites included the South School forest, Recreation Park and its gravel pit, a small parcel of land Raytheon once set aside for the town, the space near the intersection of High Plain Road and Cross Street, the Chandler Road fields, and the lower Shaw-shen fields.

Members of a neighborhood committee to save the South School forest from clear cutting walked with Ms. Campbell and have met with both the selectmen and the School Committee to plead their case.

Mr. Cote said a chart can be filled out by neighbors and town officials to help compare the proposed sites.

"Something will be presented (to the appropriate officials) within the 90 days," said Mr. Cote. "There aren't that many sites in town. If we can't figure it out in 90 days, we're not going to figure it out."

Because three fields and the necessary parking will require about 10 acres, Mr. Cote said the fields may not all be located in the same area.

FINANCIAL STRATEGIES

by Ronald R. Hill, CLU, ChFC

UNANSWERED QUESTIONS

When one considers that Americans are taking increasing responsibility for their own finances, the results of a recent survey to test their financial literacy are fairly alarming. According to the survey, sponsored by a major national brokerage firm, fewer than one-third of those surveyed could identify Alan Greenspan as the current Chairman of the Federal Reserve. Survey respondents fared little better in response to questions about unemployment, the Dow Jones Industrial Average, inflation, Social Security benefits, mortgage rates, and the size of the national deficit. In light of these results, it would seem that most Americans could derive substantial benefit from consultation with a financial planner or other knowledgeable professional. A big part of the work we do with our clients involves their education; well informed clients are better able to make good decisions and appreciate the quality of work we do for them over the long term. And we welcome the chance to explain our thoughts on financial matters pertinent to you to your other advisors, perhaps your attorney and accountant.

At BAYSTATE FINANCIAL SERVICES, we give well researched, well conceived, time tested financial advice on a very personalized, individualized basis. We offer all the great advantages of a major metropolitan financial services brokerage firm on a very localized and personal level in our community. Our services include individual investments, life and disability insurance, estate planning, retirement and education planning. For more information or to schedule an appointment, call 475-9212. My Andover office is located at 10 Essex Street. For your convenience we also have an office at 100 N. Washington St. in Boston (617-523-4500). I am a Chartered Financial Consultant. Written and verbal references are available on request.

HINT: Of the ten questions asked in the above-mentioned financial literacy survey, fewer than one in five could answer six questions correctly.

Industrial plans filed for Den Rock area

By Joan Brown

Voters decided to gamble at April Town Meeting, denying a rezoning bid that would have prevented industrial development at a property bordering Den Rock Park. The gamblers may have lost.

Dana F. Perkins Inc., engineers for property owner Rose Champy, filed preliminary plans for a three-lot industrial subdivision last Tuesday, May 23, with town planners.

Only one of the three proposed lots is completely in Andover; the other two lots straddle the Andover-Lawrence line. An industrial roadway would run from the end of Stirling Street to service the facilities.

A proposal to change the zoning from industrial to residential was defeated at April Town Meeting by a 110-264 vote. Neighbors then said the land had been zoned industrially for 35 years and no industrial development had occurred. If the single-family rezoning had been approved then, lawyers for Ms. Champy said a 40-lot subdivision was planned for the site.

The preliminary plans will be reviewed at the next meeting of the Planning Board, scheduled for June 13.

Poor Street plans withdrawn

Neighbors opposed to plans for a proposed nine-unit condominium at a historic home on Poor Street won at least a partial reprieve for the property.

Engineers for the developer, George E. Welch, withdrew plans for the project last Tuesday night. The decision came after planners expressed concern about density, drainage and parking.

"I would like to see it scaled back a bit," said Michael Miller, chairman.

Bill McCloud, of Andover Consultants, said the developer does plan to refile at a later date.

Sterling Oakes

Further planning will be delayed at the proposed Sterling Oakes 12-lot subdivision off Rocky Hill Road, as Arthur Brussard, 40 Rocky Hill Road, filed an appeal with the state Department of Environmental Protection.

The appeal questions the conditions placed on the property by the Conservation Commission. Mr. Brussard's concerns are the altering of wetlands that has already occurred, and the plans to drain into Harold Parker State Forest.

The appeal should take about six to 12 weeks for the state department to process. Hearings on the project will continue, but planners won't make a decision on the property until after the appeal is cleared.

Tyer Rubber traffic

Preliminary results on a traffic survey in the area of the old Tyer Rubber plant on Railroad Street were presented Tuesday night to planners.

Developers propose renovating the plant to allow retail and some office use. It would have a 180-space lot.

Seniors to take part in LIFE games

Approximately 160 nursing home residents from six surrounding communities will gather at the Methuen High School Field House for the fourth annual LIFE Games on Wednesday, June 7, sponsored by LIFE, Living Is For the Elderly.

With the help of Methuen High School students, this event brings together two generations for a day filled with fun and friendship.

Nursing home residents participate in games such as bowling, ring toss, basketball toss, shuffleboard and mini-golf. Each resident is assisted by a high school student and the games are coordinated by student leaders. Trophies are awarded to the top three scorers in the wheelchair and ambulatory divisions, and everyone receives a blue ribbon for participating.

Living Is For the Elderly is a non-profit, membership organization for nursing and rest home residents.

For additional information or to volunteer to help with the activities for the LIFE Games event, call Pat Becker at (508) 851-5126.

Youths want action

"It's very hard to run a campaign without having a permanent site picked out," said Christine Anderson, Youth Council member, Tuesday. "We're kind of saying, 'Well, maybe you have a better suggestion.'"

Selectmen Barry Finegold did come to Monday's meeting with a plan of his own. Part of his plan is to place a youth center where the senior center currently is, assuming the seniors build a new center elsewhere. Mr. Finegold also suggested the town could create a $30,000 youth center budget, "from voluntary budget cuts from all departments."

"You have to prove to people that this thing will work," said Mr. Finegold. "To me, this (senior center location) isn't a permanent place. To me, it's a stepping stone."

Neither town officials nor youth center members supported this idea.

Don Pattullo, council member, said placing a youth center in the seniors' facility "is like setting the youth up for failure" because of the difference in programming.

Although she didn't support the senior center spot, Joanne Marden, Finance Committee member, said Mr. Finegold's idea of a temporary facility is a good one.

Jim Barenboim, selectman, said the town could build a recreation center, rather than a youth center, at Rec Park to replace the building that was once there. The Youth Council could then use this as a temporary site and potentially expand later.

However, council members said they consider the borrowed room they use on the third floor of town offices to be their temporary facility.

Mr. Fahey said that while using the town-office space during the last three weeks, the council has run programs that have touched approximately 480 youths.

"We don't need a pilot program. We need our chance," said Valerie Parker, council member.

The Youth Council said that while researching the possibility of a youth center at Rec Park it has conducted 12 different studies.

In addition, the current senior center site was one of 21 potential youth center sites analyzed by the council. The council considered eight factors while looking at each site, and only three places fully met at least five of the eight criteria. The three locations were Rec Park, the schools, and the former Andover Companies building on North Main Street, near Shawsheen Square.

The North Main Street building proved too costly, and Selectman Jerry Silverman said the school areas that could be used will not be available on a consistent basis.

As part of its presentation to selectmen and Finance Committee members, the Youth Council also presented budget estimates for the first four years of center operation. The council worked with Tony Torrisi, town finance director, on this projected budget.

Although Finance Committee members still have some questions about this budget, some officials seemed more skeptical that $1 to $2 million in donations can be raised to build a youth center.

Susan Jenkins, ACCEPT fundraising member, said there are many foundations that give people money for such projects.

"You don't believe what kind of money is out there," she said. "It's not as difficult as you think it's going to be."

Eric Gordano, a student at Sanborn School, was selected as one of 108 national winners in Delta's World Adventure Challenge with Carmen Sandiego, an international geography-essay competition. Eric was chosen from more than 6,000 entries. He will receive a $100 savings bond, Broderbund's "Where in the World is Carmen Sandiego" computer game and a Delta's World Adventure Challenge gift pack, containing a Carmen Sandiego jigsaw puzzle, board game, book and Rockapella CD.

Based on the PBS geography game show, Where in the World is Carmen Sandiego, this year's international essay contest asked participating fourth- through seventh-graders (9- to 13-year-olds) to select an item (loot) from their hometown and take it to another city. They worked on the five principles involved in the study of geography: location, place, movement, human-environment interaction and region.

AHS parents giving a sendoff to the class of '95 at Senior Safari

Andover High School parents are planning the third annual Senior Safari.

This sendoff for the class of '95 is an all-night drug- and alcohol-free celebration the night of graduation, Monday, June 5.

At 10 p.m. the graduates will enter the gym, which will be transformed into a jungle with many surprises. Some of last year's favorite activities, such as the Velcro Wall, paint-your-own-boxers booth, a fortune-teller, and student band Dr. Head will be among the palms and vines.

Various types of food will be available all night, ending with breakfast. The celebration will conclude with the closing of the time capsule at 5 a.m.

The theme is "It takes a village to raise a child" - an old African proverb. Approximately 150 parent volunteers are working to make this a memorable, safe party. The theme seems to have taken hold this year as many businesses and churches have made donations.

Tickets are still available at $20. For more information, call 475-7059.

◀ Co-chairwomen of the activity and decorating committees of the 1995 AHS Senior Safari, set for graduation night, Monday, June 5, are (clockwise, from bottom): Camille Wilkins, Sally Barron, Heidi Greene and Donna Mason.

IN & OUT FOR SAME DAY SERVICE

COMFORT

The winter was long and hard and our son Alex had a sore throat it seemed all through the season. At our last visit to the pediatrician, the doctor suggested a tonsillectomy. She made arrangements for the Day Surgery team at Lawrence General to do the procedure. Off we went on a bright and sunny Tuesday morning in early spring. The staff made Alex feel special. They understood that while this might be one of hundreds of tonsillectomies they'd do this year, it was the only one our son was going to have. And the fact that he'd be in and out in one day made it so much easier on him and on us.

RESPECT

The doctors and nurses explained everything to us. I was especially impressed with the way they spoke directly to Alex. Being treated that way really seemed to calm him. But what mattered most was the way they treated our family. They used a smile as well as they used their high-tech surgical equipment, and it sure worked for us.

National gymnastic meet includes 5 AHS seniors

By Jamie Cistoldi
Andover High School

The Andover High School community is proud to send five outstanding individuals to the National Gymnastic Championship today, May 25, at the San Jose Expo Center in San Jose, Calif.

Throughout the 1994-'95 high school gymnastic season and off-season training in private gyms, the top six senior girls and senior boys from Massachusetts were chosen to compete in California. Five of the 12 are Andover High seniors: Robert Ellis, Barry Dubois, Scott Nicholson, Marcie Lutsch and Irene Shui.

Each student has had different training and experience but all have arrived at this same thrilling peak of competition. Marcie Lutsch, recently returning to gymnastics from back surgery, is a remarkable individual. "I am so amazed that I was able to return from the sport after so many setbacks with the surgery. I'm very proud to be able to represent Massachusetts and also demonstrate my abilities to the nation."

Jim Hurley, athletic director of Andover public schools, is delighted to see the accomplishments of these five fine students. "We are very excited and proud to send so many girls and boys to this national competition. This is a new program and so far it is outstanding." Mr. Hurley is disappointed, however, by the lack of funding. "I just wish we could help fund this....because the competition is not part of the MIAA (Massachusetts Interscholastic Athletic Association), we cannot. It is quite unfortunate."

not in the budget, there is not much we can do about it." Scott is anticipating a wonderful competition and is hoping for the best. He recently placed first on rings on the state level. He will also be competing on the parallel bars. "I don't know exactly what to expect because I don't know who I will be up

EXPERIENCE

And who has more experience than Dr. Gary Kraus? After delivering 4,160 babies Dr. Kraus still thinks each birth is a miracle. He's walked expectant moms up and down the halls, comforted skeptical siblings and counseled anxious dads for nearly 35 years. He knows the importance of family and the importance of having your baby in a birth center that makes you feel safe and secure. ONLY 4% OF HOSPITALS IN THE NATION
ARE AWARDED ACCREDITATION WITH COMMENDATION.

LOWELL GENERAL HOSPITAL IS AMONG THEM.

It is my pleasure to announce that Lowell General Hospital has been Accredited with Commendation by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Healthcare Organizations. This is the highest level of accreditation awarded by the Joint Commission - the nation's oldest and largest accrediting body.

Receiving Accreditation with Commendation is a significant achievement, one that recognizes exemplary performance by the employees, medical staff, volunteers, and governing board members at Lowell General.

The award was the result of our meeting and exceeding nationally recognized health care standards for hospitals. We are extremely pleased to have achieved this designation, which is awarded to only 4% of the nation's 5,200 hospitals.

I am proud of the Lowell General employees, volunteers, and affiliated physicians who continue to go the extra mile in providing the best possible care to our patients, and who take the hospital's mission to heart in their daily work.

We look upon this accreditation as an incentive to continue to improve our services. We're not going to rest on our laurels - you could say we've challenged ourselves to continue to meet the highest standards of care that you have come to expect of us. As always, we appreciate your continued support, and confidence in our ability to deliver excellent quality care at an affordable cost.

Sincerely,

ROBERT A. DONOVAN

Julia Topalian of Andover recently performed in the joint Winsor School - Belmont Hill School production of Fuente Ovejuna by Lope de Vega, a contemporary of Shakespeare. The junior at the Winsor School is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Topalian.

"This powerful play, based on historical fact, is set in the small village of Fuente Ovejuna, near Cordoba, Spain, in the late 15th century," said Rosalind Clark, artistic director and a member of the Winsor School fine arts faculty. "The word Fuenteovejuna has become a synonym for solidarity, used today in Spain when a group of people take a stand together. With its strong feminist slant, it is a classical landmark in the history of playwriting, and very relevant to contemporary times."

Barry Dubois will be participating in three competitions: the parallel bars, high bars and the rings. "I can't believe that this day is finally coming. I've worked so hard and hope that all of the practice and effort will pay off."

Irene Shul has been a consistent competitor at Andover High this season and is proud to be a part of the Massachusetts team, now ranking third in the nation.

Robert Ellis has put in a great deal of effort during the 1994-'95 season. He, also extended it through this month by practicing at a private gym. Grateful for the extra practice, he - like the others - is planning to do his best.

Andover High students wish these five athletes the very best for this Memorial Day national competition.

That's Why We're Here.

The New Andover Pediatric Rehabilitation Center

Maybe your child is having trouble concentrating in school. Or holding a pencil. Or taking those first steps. At the new Andover Pediatric Rehabilitation Center, our superb team of pediatric specialists works one-on-one with children of all ages to help them overcome life's occasional obstacles.

The Andover Pediatric Rehabilitation Center is part of a comprehensive network of Language-Learning and Pediatric Centers, located throughout eastern Massachusetts and Rhode Island. As a patient of the new Andover Pediatric Rehabilitation Center, your child will have ready access to all the specialists throughout our network. We work together to design an interdisciplinary therapeutic program, using the most advanced techniques, modalities and equipment available.

In the process, we work hand-in-hand with every caregiver in the child's life - parents, physicians and educators. This way, we're confident that assessments are comprehensive, and that recommended therapies are integrated into every aspect of your child's life.

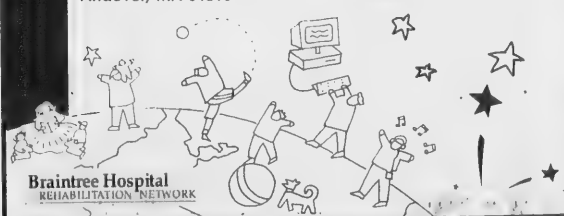

If you have concerns about your child...our door is open. Please call: 508-475-4235.

Our services are covered by most major health insurance plans.

SOCIAL NEWS

One million volunteers sought for trailwork on National Trails Day, June 3

Area residents can celebrate National Trails Day Saturday, June 3, by joining a local trailwork party. The goal of this year's celebration is to have one million people commit time and energy to developing a nationwide network of trails.

Locally the work party is co-sponsored by the Andover Trails Committee and the AMC. Volunteers will build a new trail on AVIS's Deer Jump Reservation, making possible a hiking, running, and cross-country skiing loop trail near Fish Brook. "Many people use this area already, so we hope to have a good turnout of current trail-users who want to show their appreciation of trails by working on them first-hand," said Liz Tentarelli of the Andover Trails Committee.

Trail-building involves many tasks, so children as well as adults make valuable volunteers. All participants' names will be entered in the national volunteer count. Nearly 150 people, chosen at random, will win prizes from the corporate sponsors, including hiking equipment and mountain bikes.

The Andover group will picnic overlooking the Merrimack River after a morning of trail-building. Participants are asked to bring their own sandwiches; beverages and dessert will be provided by the Andover Trails Committee. A group hike along the Merrimack River Trail will follow lunch.

Volunteers should meet at the Launching Road entrance to Deer Jump Reservation at 9 a.m. Bring work gloves, if you have them, and wear boots or sturdy sneakers and long pants. For further information, call Fred Snell at 686-3647.

Your Dental HEALTH

by Richard D. Hopgood, D.M.D.

RESPECTABLE VENEERS

When teeth are severely stained, chipped, or uneven, patients may have to look beyond the option presented by resin bonding to porcelain veneers. This cosmetic solution involves covering the tooth's outer surface with a thin porcelain laminate, much in the same way that a fake fingernail is applied over a broken natural nail. The beauty of a porcelain veneer largely rests with its natural translucent appearance and strength. Only three to five percent of the tooth's surface must be removed to accept a porcelain veneer, versus removal of 30 to 40 percent of the tooth surface with capping. Aside from their natural appearance, porcelain laminates also can be expected to last for 10 to 15 years.

Want to improve your smile? There are many techniques at your dentist's fingertips to straighten, brighten, whiten, & otherwise enhance your appearance and give you good reason to smile. Let us help choose the best one for you. If it's time to stop hiding your smile, we invite you to experience the kind of up-to-date, knowledgeable, compassionate dental care we provide here at 296 Lowell Street, Rt 133 (with easy access off Rt 93). Please call to schedule a convenient appointment Mon & Thur 10-8, Tues & Fri 8-6 at 475-2431.

P.S. Porcelain veneers may cost almost twice as much as bonding, but they can be expected to last at least twice as long.

James G. Prout III Andover native was Rear Admiral, USN; leaves family here

Rear Admiral James "Jay" G. Prout III, USN, 51, an Andover native and the commander of the USS Carl Vinson carrier battle group in San Diego, Calif., died Wednesday, May 17. [See page 1 story.]

Adm. Prout was born in Boston. He attended St. Augustine School and graduated from Phillips Exeter Academy, Exeter, N.H., in 1962.

He was a 1966 graduate of the United States Naval Academy in Annapolis, Md. He received a master's degree in international security affairs - strategic planning from Harvard University in 1982.

Adm. Prout also attended Naval Destroyer School, Newport, R.I., Defense Language Institute, Monterey, Calif., Mine Warfare Staff Officer Course, Charlestown, S.C., and the Uruguayan Naval War College, Montevideo, Uruguay.

He served at sea as Commander, Destroyer Squadron Seven; commanding officer of the destroyer USS O'Brien; executive officer of the destroyer USS Oldendorf; and commanding officer of the minesweeper USS Fearless.

He served as the Officer-in-Charge of a SEAL platoon support detachment at Nha Be, Republic of Vietnam; and as First Lieutenant and Main Propulsion Assistant on the destroyer USS Renshaw.

Adm. Prout also served aboard the USS Steinaker as Operations Officer; and USS La Moure County, as Engineering Officer.

Ashore, Adm. Prout served three tours in the office of the Chief of Naval Operations in Washington, D.C. He also served as the Commanding Officer of the Naval Station, San Diego; Deputy Chief of Staff for Resources, Requirements and Assessments, Commander in Chief, U.S. Pacific Fleet; mine warfare planner on the staff of the Mine Warfare Command; and assistant director for long-range planning, on the Chief of Naval Operation's executive panel.

Among Adm. Prout's decorations were the Defense Distinguished Service Medal; the Defense Superior Service Medal; the Legion of Merit with two gold stars; the Bronze Star Medal with the combat distinguishing device and gold star; the Purple Heart; the Meritorious Service Medal with two gold stars; the Navy Commendation Medal; the Navy Achievement Medal; the Humanitarian Service Medal; the Combat Action Ribbon; the Presidential Unit Citation; and the Battle Efficiency Award.

Adm. Prout was described by Navy officials as being one of the Navy's finest, making a difference in the lives of the sailors who served under him.

Members of his family include his wife, Kathleen Mary (Soliozy) Prout, of Coronado, Calif.; sons Brendan Charles Prout and James Gregory Prout IV, both of Coronado, Calif.; daughter, Heather Kathleen Prout, of Coronado, Calif.; brothers, Terence Prout of Andover and Michael Prout of Newton; sisters, Moira (Prout) Kelleher and M. Sheila Prout, both of Andover, and E. Claire Prout of Portsmouth, N.H.; and several nieces and nephews.

He was the son of the late Navy Captain James G. Prout Jr. and Elizabeth Prout of Andover. Adm. Prout was last in Andover on Dec. 14, for his mother's funeral.

Adm. Prout was the son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Soliozy of Newport, R.I.

A funeral Mass will be celebrated today, Thursday, at Naval Training Center, San Diego. A funeral service with full military honors will follow at Fort Rosecrans National Cemetery.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Rear Admiral James G. Prout III Memorial Scholarship Fund, Surface Navy Association, P.O. Box 126866, San Diego, Calif. 92112-6866.

The family invites town residents and friends of the family to join in the celebration of Admiral Prout's life and career on Memorial Day, May 29, at 10:15 a.m. in front of Memorial Auditorium, The Park, Bartlett Street.

Consider These Thoughts
by Garry A. Burke

CHILDREN'S THINGS
To film buffs, the word "Rosebud" summons up all the power that a child's plaything has to elicit strong emotion. An essay entitled "The Timeless House of Children's Games" provides elaboration: "Any parent who have ever found a rusted toy automobile buried in the grass or a bent sand bucket on the beach knows that objects like these can be among the powerful things in the world. They can summon up in an instant, in colors stronger than life, the whole of childhood at its happiest - the disproportionate affection lavished on some strange possession, the concentrated self-forgetfulness of play, the elusive expressions of surprise or elation that pass so transparently over youthful features."
Like adults, children also need to express their emotions through the ceremonies of death - the visitation, the funeral and the burial. Children should be told that a funeral is a significant occasion to say good-bye to the loved one who has died. Explain the funeral arrangements, and, if possible, involve the children in the discussion. Let them know what to expect and give them permission to attend. For additional guidance about discussing death with children or for more information about funeral arrangements, contact BURKE FUNERAL HOME at 475-5200. We are located at 390 North Main Street.

MEMORIAL DAY • DOWN THE YEARS

100 years ago May 1895

Beautiful flowers, stirring music, and thrilling words of patriotism, with the smile of a perfect day on it all, made the soldiers' holiday of yesterday a memorable one for Andover, as for many other towns. The ranks grow thinner year by year, but the loss in numbers seems only to magnify the meaning of the day celebrated, and to add to the laurels of the heroes thus remembered. The day is always a peculiarly good day for Andover. And rightly so, for it is above all a day of loyalty, showing and patriotism renewing, and Andover has a big part in this with her 250 years of loyalty and patriotism, and her revolutionary and rebellion patriots.

May the day never lose any of its teachings of the great truths it has done so much to establish in the present generation, by the examples set by the heroes of America's great war.

Those youths of '61 took a boy's measure of the war. War is savagery, distorting men's faces and filling their hearts with animal rage. Only the cause, the cause, redeemed it, and their manner of devotion to that. There were bits of the heroic - what even close by felt heroic. An Andover boy was in the hospital, had lost his right arm, looked up to a visitor, "That's nothing, I've got one hand left to fight the enemy." "But," suggested the blundering visitor, "it's your left hand." "Yes, but I could fire a cannon with that." Heroism - incontestably so.

Plans for Memorial Day services were announced by the Memorial Day committee. Plans include church services on Sunday morning and Memorial services at Spring Grove Cemetery on Sunday afternoon. On Memorial Day itself, the parade will start at 9 a.m., at the library and will proceed to the Memorial auditorium, the Memorial tower and the Old South Cemetery.

The Silver Star was recently awarded to Corporal Donald A. Spinney, USMC, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Spinney, 97 Chestnut Street. He received the medal for "conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity" in action on Pelleliu Island, Palua Group in September 1944. The citation describes the action as follows: "Corporal Spinney was serving as a fire team leader when his squad encountered the enemy entrenched in deep coral caves, well protected by mortar and machine gun fire. When his squad leader was wounded, Corporal Spinney assumed command and deployed his men with great professional skill. After his squad had been ordered to fall back to a better position, Corporal Spinney, with complete disregard for his own personal safety, remained in an exposed position and by his covering fire enabled several wounded to be brought to positions of safety. Corporal Spinney himself was wounded, but he nevertheless continued bravely until he was assured that the new defensive positions had been established."

Patriotism and heritage was the theme for Commander Raymond R. Couture, USNR, Monday morning during the principle Memorial Day program at Memorial Auditorium. Despite threatening weather, veterans groups, town officials, military units, scouts and civic organizations formed for the annual parade at 9:30 a.m., and marched to the auditorium for the 10 a.m. service. Cmdr. Couture began his address by tracing the history of the Memorial Day observance which began in Mississippi during the Civil War in 1863. In 1868, it became a national observance. The address at the first national observance given by the then General Grant stressed the patriotism of the men who answered the call to duty in time of need.

Over 900 flags have been placed on graves at Spring Grove cemetery by veterans groups in town. Last week youthful vandals destroyed over 75 of the flags. They were apprehended by police and compelled to pay for the damage, as well as personally replacing the flags by taking them from the town hall and walking to Spring Grove cemetery.

10 years ago May 1985

On the subject of the annual Memorial Day observance, it must be noted how beautiful the Andover center appeared with American flags unfurled from the Phillips Academy campus to Shawsheen. Creation of the Street of Flags was the idea of John Lewis and his Patriotic Holiday Committee. The flags are those which had draped the caskets of veterans or have been donated over these past few years.

With the town's new Memorial Flag, a gift from John Wall of Andover, draped across the front of Memorial Auditorium as a back drop, guest speaker Brig. Gen. Eugene F. McAuliffe addressed the audience.

The huge American flag is dedicated to Ben Brown, an Army veteran of World War II and past commander of Andover American Legion Post 8.

The Unitarian Universalist Congregation will hold its annual flower communion service Sunday, May 28, at 10:30 a.m. at 6 Locke St. The tradition was begun in the Czech Republic many years ago by the Rev. Norbert Capek in Prague. Each person brings a flower. It is gathered with those of others and each person returns home with a flower brought by someone else. "The Blossom and the Seed" will be the topic of the sermon by the Rev. Peter T. Richardson.

The Unitarian Universalist Congregation in Andover draws from all religious traditions to help individuals find pathways to spiritual growth in the community.

Ed Reform means more teachers and class time

drawn, the types of programs the kids are involved in."

According to Tim Thomas, High School principal, "Education at Andover High School is going to be significantly different in two years than where it's been in the last 15 years."

There are many reasons for this, including a requirement to eliminate the so-called general track. This may have significant effects on ninth grade courses and school-to-work initiatives.

But perhaps the largest reason AHS will change is the "time and learning" issue mentioned by Mr. Neal.

Next year, High School students must spend 990 hours - five and a half hours per day - in actual classes. Time spent at lunch, walking from class to class, or in home room will not count.

By September of 1996, Mr. Thomas said Andover will be in nearly complete compliance with the state directive for September, 1997, to have all students take 990 hours of "structured learning time." This will allow the school one year to "work out the bugs," he said.

One problem with the state's directive, though, is educators are not sure what types of activity periods fall under "structured learning time." According to Mr. Thomas, an activity by Project Teamwork, a diversity education group, or by Students Against Driving Drunk, might count towards the 990 hours, but a meeting of the chess club may not.

A larger issue, however, is that no Andover High School student is currently meeting the 990 hours. To reach 990 hours will take a major restructuring of the school day.

"We have to put everything on the table, in other words. To say, 'This is the way we've done it, so that's the way we're going to do it,' probably isn't going to work," said Mr. Neal. "There are going to have to be some changes."

According to Mr. Thomas, Andover is considering two possible ways to meet the 990 hours.

One option is to reduce the number of class periods from eight to seven, and allow a half-hour for lunch. This option will combine home room into first period, and permit four minutes passing time between each classes instead of five. The reduction in passing time alone will add 24 hours of instruction over the course of a year.

However, Andover still will need to add 10 minutes to the school day under this option. Mr. Thomas also said construction work will limit the number of available rooms next year, making such a scheduling change "virtually impossible" until after construction is completed.

A second option that other systems are considering may be more viable. This option would create a four-period school day, with each period lasting 85 minutes.

"To hear other schools talk about the long periods, there's a lot of enthusiasm. One of the issues that comes up, though, is that it has to be with considerable in-service training, because what will work for students and teachers for 42 minutes (the time for one class now) will definitely not work for 85 minutes," said Mr. Thomas.

Yet training will be difficult because education reform essentially eliminates the half-day normally used for in-service time. Although some downtown businesses may be happy with this decision, it will make it much harder for teachers to find time for professional development.

Mr. Thomas suggested that educators who currently teach longer courses such as Odyssey and American Studies, may be able to offer training to their associates regarding how to keep students involved for 85 minutes.

But these classes have more than one teacher.

"So there has to be a new way of looking at the (way) instruction is delivered (such as) dividing the class up into smaller groups and moving further and further from teacher as the provider of all knowledge. This is something we've been working on for a number of years, but this (education reform), in essence, would make it mandatory," said Mr. Thomas.

Mr. Thomas said High School classes will break up into groups for discussions and sometimes use cooperative learning and peer learning. Mr. Thomas and Mr. Neal said the renovated and expanded school space, combined with the demands of education reform, will also provide an opportunity for several new programs. Students might develop a Project Adventure-type physical education class, for instance.

Andover will meet requirements

Both administrators believe Andover will meet the time and learning requirements. But the question many teachers throughout the state are asking is whether the state will back down once it sees that many schools will not reach the state mandates.

"It really becomes an issue of the state is (asking for) so much with really no significant funding, and I think that's one of the things that might be one of the most damaging parts. It might be the biggest Achilles heel for the Education Reform Act," said Mr.

Thomas. "I think the town of Andover will be able to pull it off, but are we only going to be one of the few (state) schools in compliance?"

More teachers may be needed

"The time is there if we can use it right. I'm not sure that we're looking at a lot of extra time, it's how that time gets used," said Mr. Neal. "The question then becomes if we have to have different classes every minute of the day, we don't have the staff perhaps to address that."

According to Mr. Thomas, at any one time there are 150 students in classes such as study hall that will no longer count toward the 990 hours. Andover will need teachers for those students. In addition, the state will require all students to take a foreign language. Because 15 percent of Andover students do not do so currently, additional foreign language instructors will have to be hired.

Hiring new teachers will be the schools' top concern when it meets with selectmen and Finance Committee members this summer to prioritize Andover's future needs, said Mr. Neal.

Changes less severe at other levels

By Neil Fater

Compared to the effect on Andover High School, Andover's elementary and middle schools barely will be affected by the time and learning requirements of education reform.

The state will require elementary students to spend 900 hours annually in "structured learning time" while students at the secondary level must spend 990 hours per year.

"The two middle schools are within 10 minutes a day," said Dick Neal, superintendent. "As for the actual time that students are in classes, we can meet the time."

But educators are wondering whether middle school programs such as the advisor-advisee program will be included in the "structured learning time."

"The question is about the subject matter. Is an activity period, for example, an acceptable thing? And I think it is, because there is learning that takes place at those activities. It makes a difference how we structure the activities, but certainly they can be done in such a way that there is direct learning," said Mr. Neal.

"The elementary schools are essentially meeting the time and learning requirements. From school to school it might vary by five minutes here and there, but I think with minor tweaking the elementary schools won't have a problem," said Mr. Neal.

In its school improvement plan, the Sanborn school council stated Sanborn will increase the school day by five minutes by changing the morning bell to 8:40 a.m. from its current 8:45 a.m.

Who's looking for West Middle School's next principal?

mittees have written letters to the Townsmen in support of the job Dr. Campbell did in that position.

In fact, 11 of the 12 different teachers on the two committees signed a letter in support of Dr. Campbell that appeared in the April 13 issue of the Townsmen. Kerry Costello, who signed that letter, is a member of both committees.

Six of the 10 parents on the two committees also have written letters in support of Dr. Campbell.

According to Denise Littlefield, interim assistant superintendent and chairwoman of both committees, each committee member was given a "generic principal profile." This profile is meant to let members know what the school system is looking for from a middle school principal.

Actually, the profile is a middle school principal job description that was created in November of 1994. It contains six general responsibilities such as to "supervise the middle school's educational program."

Process and people

Here's how the new principal will be chosen:

The paper-screening committee controls the first step of the process. Committee members will read all 27 applications received and pass the best applications on to the interview committee. The interview committee will develop questions and interview these candidates, passing a potentially smaller list on to Mr. Neal.

According to Charlie Friel, West

Elementary principal and screening committee member, the screening committee had an organizational meeting already and members have read at least some of the applications.

"I actually will conclude my reading probably by (Tuesday, May 23)," he said, and pass on his written thoughts to Candace Hall, personnel director. Mr. Friel said he expected the committee to meet sometime this week.

The screening committee includes Mr. Friel and West Middle School teachers Kerry Costello, John Fawcett (math), Brenda Gaudreau (special needs), John Heidenrich (social studies), Judith Palmer (music), and Gene Rapisardi (English).

West Middle parents on the screening committee are Peg Coleman, Spencer Court, Cathryn Delude, Old School House Road; Martha Gibson, Cheyenne Circle; Rita Olans, Oriole Drive; Lynne Robidoux, Brundrett Avenue; and Cathy Wallace, Lovejoy Road.

Teachers on the interview committee are Fred Baker (industrial arts), Ann Beauchesne (science), Ms. Costello, Charles Donovan (sixth grade), Dick Loschl (sixth grade), Judy Plolunek (counselor), and Les Taylor (social studies).

Parents doing the interviewing are Rena Ginsberg, Cherrywood Circle; Jamie Hale, River Road; David Konjoian, Chandler Road; and Willa Rapp, Launching Road.

Stephen Richardson, Andover High School assistant principal, and Floyd McManus, Doherty Middle School principal, are the administrators on the committee.

A member of the 112th Regimental combat team, he was on special assignment as a guard to General Douglas MacArthur during the return to Bataan in 1945.

His brother, Ted, was a ship's photographer aboard the USS Columbia.

Familiar to many after being featured in the 1965 movie In Harm's Way, his ship took three kamikaze hits during the fighting at Leyte and Lingayen gulfs in the Philippines.

At the 1944 Leyte Gulf battle and invasion — which turned the tide for the Allies in the Pacific — the brothers crossed paths.

"During the battle of Leyte Gulf, those of us in the Navy knew what outfits were in the troop ships," said Ted Cole. "I knew Al's outfit was in the troop ships going to hit Leyte Beach."

Among the first Allied troops landing on the Japanese-occupied Philippine Islands, Al Cole didn't know at the time that his brother's ship was among those supplying offshore bombardment.

"The whole area was covered with ships," said Al Cole. "When we went ashore we didn't do much looking back. There was 40 to 50 yards of beach. Our whole objective was to get into the jungle. We didn't do much sightseeing."

In pre-battle action, Allied surveillance planes found Japanese ships passing through the narrow Surigao Strait while heading toward Leyte Gulf. Ted's ship responded and sunk two battleships — the Fuso and the Yamashiro — seriously crippling the Japanese fleet.

But the Columbia was in for the fight of her life several days later.

Manning a machine gun on the port side of the ship, Ted Cole was one of a handful of sailors on deck when the first kamikaze hit.

He remembers seeing the plane approaching from the starboard side, then passing over the bow and turning, swinging around right over his head. Hit by the machine-gun fire, the plane turned and crashed along the side of the ship, but didn't explode.

"We were drenched to the skin with gasoline. As luck would have it, nothing exploded, nothing ignited," said Ted Cole. "That first one did little except for a couple people being wounded."

Hours later later, the crew wasn't so lucky.

The Columbia was one of many Allied ships threading through a narrow passage in mined waters. "The (Japanese) waited for us to get into that little channel where we couldn't maneuver," said Ted Cole. "And then they started with the kamikazes."

"That's when they came at us. There were dozens and dozens of planes. We had no choice but to continue straight

Memorial Day: 7 a.m. service to parade to parachute jump

Memorial Day will begin with services at West Parish Cemetery at 7 a.m. The chaplain of Veterans of Foreign Wars Chapter 2128, Andover, will say a prayer and benediction. George Milne, commander of VFW, will give the eulogy, and John C. Doherty will place a floral tribute. The VFW firing detail will give a rifle salute, and Andover High School students Joshua Murphy will play taps and Matthew Hardiman the echo.

A 7:30 a.m. service at St. Augustine Cemetery will consist of a prayer and benediction by a St. Augustine Parish priest and a eulogy by George Milne. John C. Doherty will place a floral tribute. Members of the VFW firing squad will salute with a volley, followed by taps by Joshua Murphy and echo by Matthew Hardiman.

At 8 a.m., participants will go to Spring Grove Cemetery for services at the American Legion Monument. The Andover High School band will play the national anthem followed by opening remarks by Thomas Collins of the American Legion.

The Rev. Paul Pantelis, pastor of Sts. Constantine and Helen Greek Orthodox Church, will give the eulogy. The floral tribute will be placed by Theodore Witman of the American Legion and James A.B. Peters, adjutant of Disabled American Veterans.

The First New Hampshire Regiment of the American Legion will give the rifle salute and Joshua Murphy will play taps echoed by Matthew Hardiman.

At 8:20 a.m., the group will pay respects at the Grand Army of the Republic monument, also in Spring Grove Cemetery. Following the national anthem by the Andover High School Band, Rev. Pantelis will deliver an opening prayer, followed by the eulogy by John Doherty. George Milne of the VFW and Joseph Horan of the DAV will place the floral tribute.

Rev. Pantelis will give the benediction, followed by a volley by First New Hampshire Regiment, American Legion. Joshua Murphy and Matthew Hardiman will perform taps and echo.

Ashokan Ensemble to play on Memorial Day

By Alix Driscoll

When four Andover musicians play Ashokan Farewell on Memorial Day they will be honoring the veterans of the Civil War, for which this solemn day was originally designated in 1868.

The Ashokan Ensemble — Iain Hamilton, violin; Kelly Deyermund, saxophone; Juliet Grabowski, clarinet; and Rose Grabowski, flute — are playing the haunting Jay Ungar air, made famous by Ken Burns' Civil War documentary. They will perform during the Memorial Day services at Memorial Auditorium on Bartlet Street.

Iain, a sixth-grader at Doherty Middle School, started learning the violin at 3, studying the Suzuki method. Not restricting himself to the classical genre, Iain plays fiddle with a zest, specializing in Scottish tunes. Recently he performed for the Friday contra dance group on Locke Street. A published composer, Iain wrote The Mocking Song, an air, for a Boston fiddle society.

He rescored Ashokan Farewell for the ensemble. Iain is hoping to learn to fly in the U.S. Navy and later become a commercial pilot. It is his third appearance in the Andover Memorial Day service.

Rose Grabowski, a sixth-grader at Doherty Middle School, studies flute with Leonid Mironovich. She says her greatest achievement to date was the three-tier cake she constructed and decorated for her brother's wedding this spring. Rose has competed on an Odyssey of the Mind team. She is leaning toward studying cultural anthropology for a career.

Julie Grabowski, a four-year student of the clarinet, excelled at this ture, a kamikaze plane swerved suddenly, crashing instead into the ship's main deck. An 800-lb bomb on the plane exploded in the ship's aft gun turret, setting the ship's main and second decks aflame. The hit also severed steering cables, leaving the ship without steering control in a minefield.

"There were 17 guys in the magazine below," said Ted Cole. All 17 died, and 20 others were missing in action, he said.

Within an hour, the crew extinguished the fires, rigged a partial steering system and again was firing on enemy planes.

The ship would be hit one more time.

From an area where friendly planes had been flying, a single kamikaze – the Japanese translation is "divine wind" – approached Ted Cole's ship at nearly 400 mph.

"The plane crashed into the forward main battery director (lookout tower). The bomb's explosion carried the director over the side."

"It had seven men in it."

The brothers both emphasize that they don't consider themselves heroes, just people doing what needed to be done. The Coles said it's important for younger residents to find out about the actions of young people 50 years ago, and to learn from the stories of the second World War.

Though the Columbia was struck three times, her captain and crew would not leave Leyte Gulf.

"The admiral said, 'You've got to leave.' Our captain said, 'No,'" said Ted Cole. Through the crew's determined efforts, "we still accomplished our mission."

Adm. Prout had accomplished career, bright future in Navy

San Diego, Calif., died Wednesday, May 17.

He was a passenger aboard a fighter aircraft on an orientation flight that crashed en route to St. Louis, Mo.

The aircraft was found about 60 miles north of Santa Fe, N.M., last Thursday, May 18. Also killed was the fighter's pilot, Navy Commander Joseph G. Kleefisch, commanding officer of strike fighter squadron 23.

The cause of the crash is under investigation, according to Navy officials.

Adm. Prout was scheduled to be the featured speaker at the town's Memorial Day services this Monday, May 29. The services instead will be dedicated in the memory of the admiral, according to John Lewis, town veterans' services agent.

Rear Adm. Thomas Marfiak, a close friend of Admiral Prout and the commander of another carrier battle group, will read the speech Adm. Prout had prepared for the service.

"He was a remarkable man. He was an inspiration for all of us," Sheila Prout, of Andover, said of her brother. "He was a wonderful dad, a great brother, cousin, uncle."

Called "our golden boy" by members of his family, Adm. Prout was the oldest of six children. He grew up in Andover, at the family home on Williams Street.

"It was very clear that he was very special," said Ms. Prout. He worked hard at everything he did, she said, and his family – especially his late father, Navy Capt. James Prout Jr. – was proud of his accomplishments. His work earned him a scholarship to Phillips Exeter Academy. He then applied and was appointed to the United States Naval Academy in 1966.

"My father always dreamed that Jay would be an admiral," said his sister, Claire Prout, of Portsmouth, N.H. Their father died before Adm. Prout's promotion in 1992.

She remembered her years in college, when she was juggling studies with work and trying to make ends meet. When she was unable to go on a trip because she didn't have the money, her oldest brother, then a lieutenant, sent her a check for the exact amount. "He didn't have much more than I did," said Claire Prout. He enclosed a note that said "you've worked hard, go have some fun," but told her to someday, do the same for someone else, she said.

Family and friends were important to the admiral. His wife, Kathleen, strongly supported her husband's career. Together they raised three children – Brendan, James Gregory IV and Heather – through the many rigors and transitions of Navy life. Though his time in the Navy took him many places, his family said that the friends he made became friends for life.

"He always kept in touch," said Sheila Prout. "He still kept in contact with his Little League coach."

Whenever he came to Andover, he'd usually stay with Doug Howe, of Prudential/Howe Real Estate, his friend since the age of seven. Mr. Howe left for San Diego immediately upon hearing about the admiral's death.

"He was the person that was... going to the top. He deserved to. He was given a lot, but he did a lot with what he was given. He was a hard, hard worker," said Claire Prout.

"It's my brother. I'm going to miss him. But it's everybody – he was connected to so many people."

Adm. Marfiak will honor Adm. Prout at Memorial Auditorium service

Services at Memorial Auditorium, Bartlett Street, 10:15
John C. Doherty, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will be the master of ceremonies for the services.

Rev. Paul Pantelis will give the invocation followed by the national anthem played by the Andover High School Band.

At 10:30, a flyover by a group of Army A-10 aircraft will honor WWII veterans.

In Flanders Fields will be performed by Lindsey Pearson, a Doherty Middle School student. Clan McPherson will play the hymn Amazing Grace and Charles Aloviseti, a student at Doherty Middle School, will recite The Gettysburg Address. Ashokan Farewell will be performed by Iain Hamilton, Kelly Deyermond, Juliet Grabowski and Rose Grabowski.

Andover's own Rear Admiral James G. Prout III, commander of Cruiser Destroyer Group III, who died in a plane crash last week, was to give the main address. In his place, Admiral Thomas Marfiak, commander of Cruiser Destroyer Group V, will speak.

Following America the Beautiful, performed by the Andover High School Band, Dr. Larry Larsen, chairman of the Andover Board of Selectmen, will present Distinguished Service awards. James J.B. Peters, adjutant of DAV, and Thomas Murphy of the American Legion, will place commemorative wreaths followed by a benediction by Rev. Paul Pantelis, volley by First New Hampshire Regiment and taps and echo by Joshua Murphy and Matthew Hardiman.

The U.S. Army Parachute Team, the Golden Knights, will jump from 12,000 feet, dive and fly through the skies. They are scheduled to perform at 1 p.m. on the Playstead baseball field behind Doherty Middle School on Bartlett Street. The team will make its grand entrance Sunday, May 28, at 2 p.m. with a "mass exit" free-fall arrival jump of all 12 parachutists at the Lawrence Municipal Airport in North Andover.

The Golden Knights have won nearly 1200 national and 22 world parachuting championship titles. Their performance is sponsored by the Andover Marriott and town of Andover.

recent Junior District Band performances. The DMS seventh-grader says she prefers to involve herself in such non-competitive team sports as skiing and sailing. She is learning Japanese from her sister and has been teaching clarinet privately for a year. Juliet studies piano with Eugenia Mironovich. Both girls are the daughters of Ann and Ralph Grabowski, of Sunset Rock Road.

In addition to playing saxophone, Kelly Deyermond competes in soccer and the town summer softball league, and is active in Girl Scouts. The South School fifth-grader has been studying the sax for two years.

Parents, kids need answers

Andover's school leaders have a problem most communities would welcome - parents who care too much.

It is because of these parents that the resignation of popular principal Sam Campbell has become such a controversial issue.

It appears Dr. Campbell will not be returned as principal of West Middle School, as hundreds of parents and students have requested in writing.

However, because so many teachers, parents, students and other concerned citizens have expressed concern, they deserve more specific answers than they have been given.

Will Dr. Campbell be offered a contract? If not, why not, specifically? What is it in his performance evaluation that did not measure up? What is Mr. Neal looking for that Dr. Campbell did not provide? Was he too kind in his evaluations of teachers?

Will the 217 students get a response to their petition, which said, "We would like to know why our principal and friend has been forced out?"

Will the parents, nearly 400 of them, get a response to their petition asking for Sam Campbell to be rehired? If not, what will it take before Mr. Neal responds with some specific answers?

It is not a small, vocal group asking these questions. As much as some might like, the issue will not simply go away. Many people need answers so the town can move on.

Dick Neal took a step in the right direction this week by meeting with Nancy Groff, a vocal Sam Campbell supporter and parent, and listening to her concerns. Yet the School Committee seems to be going in the opposite direction by limiting unplanned citizen input to three minutes per person per issue at its meetings.

Parent groups historically have raised money to pay for things the schools might otherwise have done without.

Does the School Committee really want to say it doesn't have enough time for those people who are most willing to donate time to improve the schools? Or is its message, simply, don't bother?

We would like to encourage Mr. Neal to, as Ms. Groff said, show "he is our leader as superintendent" and offer those who deserve one an explanation.

Let them eat cake

Editor, Townsmen:

I am sick and tired of hearing Andover citizens complaining about the tactics and attitudes of their elected School Committee members. I felt it was about time that someone pointed out the simple logic and rationale which has gone into their actions to date. It is only through such a complete understanding that one can truly appreciate and, in fact, admire the recent activities of this esteemed administrative body. So, I have decided to take it upon myself to educate the large number of your readers who have expressed concerns regarding the actions and ethics of the School Committee in recent months.

First, regarding those who have complained about the committee's lack of responsiveness, let me offer the following explanation. The committee has had many challenges and issues to address in recent months. This has required many hours of meetings and "overtime" above and beyond the hours they put in on their "real" jobs. Certainly we cannot expect all of its members to read all of the mail we send them, return all of the phone calls we make to them and truly consider our suggestions at open meetings. Sure, in an ideal world it would be nice to have the time and luxury to grant the PTO's request to form a two-week voluntary subcommittee to explore more equitable and creative alternatives to the redistricting plan, which the committee put together in a record-breaking timeframe. But was it really fair to ask them to put off voting on this topic while the proposed subcommittee did its exploration? As Ms. Dalton pointed out at that time, there were other, apparently more important issues that the committee had to get on to.

Which leads to the next topic: the "resignation" of Dr. Campbell. OK, OK - so all parties finally agreed he was forced out. But people, please put away those conspiracy theories. This isn't federal, or even state politics. This is just a small town made up of simple, hard-working townsfolk. Dr. Campbell may have been popular with the parents and students of West Middle School, but as we have been told, he failed at meeting his "goals." And I am sure that each and every School Committee member would agree that when someone doesn't perform in his or her position the way he or she were expected to when placed in that office, then it is society's right, in fact responsibility, to remove him or her from such position. But I digress. Dr. Campbell was fired for our own good as is obvious to anyone who takes a look at his personnel file, which Dr. Campbell has allowed to be publicly inspected. Even if there are no obvious or even subtle indications of poor performance in his files, as those whom have taken the time to review so claim, I am certain that there are many other good reasons for his sudden ouster. But I think it is selfish of those who demand such a full explanation from the School Committee. Again, they have many other issues that they need to get on to and they can't dwell on any one topic just because some parents and students think they have the "right" to know why their principal was fired.

On a related point, to claim that then acting-superintendent Dick Neal fired Dr. Campbell in order to gain favor with the School Committee who would soon be voting for his office is simply ludicrous. First, it would be totally unethical, if not illegal, for a School Committee to make such a deal, stated or implied, with Mr. Neal. Second, for such an "arrangement" to be made would require a collusive, majority voting block controlled by a dominating committee chairperson. Again, this is Andover, not D.C. What are the chances?

Did I mention the lack-of-responsiveness criticism? Oh, well, it seems the most prevalent and consistent complaint so let me clarify a bit fur-

Blessings without burdens for dreams

By Brad Pearson

"Daddy, I'm glad you're here," she said. My 5-year-old daughter, Sarah, and I were sitting on a cozy recliner in our family room on a quiet evening not long ago. She was telling me about the routine events of her day. Then she paused, her suddenly solemn green eyes focused intently on my face, and she added, "Daddy, I'll miss you when you die."

When breath returned to my body and while Sarah was gently hugged within the circle of my arms, I treaded softly on a verbal tightrope. Not wanting to offer her a guarantee that might be impossible to keep in this uncertain world, she absolutely deserved every reasonable reassurance. So I simply told Sarah that my plan and desire for myself and her mother was to be with her for a very long time: how much we both wanted to watch her fully grow up as we gradually grow older.

Despite kind questioning, the source of Sarah's concern was not revealed. Was it something she saw on television, a nightmare (parents have their own), the plot of The Lion King or some tragedy that had befallen a playmate? Was her dread derived from an unconscious, genetic memory of events that occurred within our family so very long ago?

Death was far removed from the thoughts of Orsemus G. Chapman, 29, and Rowena N. Upton, 17, on March 16, 1854. They were married that day by an Andover Theological Seminary graduate, Rev. Henry S. Green, of the Ballardvale Union Society. Like most young newlyweds, the Chapmans were probably focused on love, children and a long life together.

Only two of their dreams would be realized. Their marriage was ample testament to their love. Children, legacies of that love to the future and personifications of the Chapman faith in it, soon followed. Their second son, Charles Fremont Chapman, was born on March 3, 1858, in Wilmington.

Death denied Orsemus and Rowena Chapman their much-desired future together. Rowena contacted consumption and, far too young, died at age 22 on Aug. 12, 1859. No monument marks her Wilmington gravesite.

The merciless carnage of the Civil War soon began. Leaving his children with relatives, Orsemus enlisted in the Union Army with his brother, William. William died at Antietam on Sept. 17, 1862, and, five days later, Orsemus passed away at the Mill Creek Hospital near Fortress Monroe, Va. Buried in that southern state, so far from home, Orsemus' grave is also unmarked.

With the love and support that children, then and now, need and deserve more than they often receive, Charles Fremont Chapman would survive the premature loss of his parents. On April 5, 1864, he was legally adopted by a childless couple, Henry and Martha (Upton) Pearson. Martha was Rowena's sister and Henry, described in contemporary records as an "invalid," was a person whose physical disability placed no limitations on his heart's empathy.

Charles Fremont Chapman thus became Charles Henry Pearson. He ther. Those of you who were at the redistricting meeting spent about an hour pleading for the committee to put off their vote to allow time to develop a more optimal plan, or at least validate the one proposed. Just because virtually every request and question from the audience remained unaddressed doesn't mean that the committee was not listening, as many apparently frustrated parents later complained. The simple explanation is that the committee thought all questions posed were in fact rhetorical and as such required no response.

And the fact that they are able to vote in such a consistent and predictable manner, and never change their original position after obtaining parent and student input, should give us source of comfort instead of frustration. It should be obvious to all of you by now that they are able to give such extensive thought and research into all issues, that even after actively soliciting and evaluating all those thoughts and ideas from you, they never obtain additional information that they have not already considered.

Which logically explains Susan Dalton's recent proposal to limit public input to three minutes per person. Instead of being a source of public outcry, this recent decision by the committee chairperson should be recognized for what it really is - brilliance. We are very fortunate that the committee (or at least three of them) is so productive that they are able to collaborate and reach the decisions that are the best for our schools independently. Allowing public input simply slows down the process, which ultimately results in the same decisions being made anyway. In fact, for the same reasons, if it was legal, Ms. Dalton would certainly be wise in deciding to prohibit public input entirely. This would allow the committee to get a lot more accomplished and, more importantly, get it done faster. Sure, some could argue that without listening to their concerns the School Committee is not really representing them; but loss of representation is, of course, a small price to pay for expediency.

I hope that this letter was able to clarify some issues for those many citizens who have felt betrayed by this School Committee. And to those parents who have the gall to accuse our committee of being out of touch with their needs and feelings, and seem starving for some sort of representation, I know I speak for at least some of the members when I say, "Let them eat cake."

He supports the will of the majority

Editor, Townsmen:

As a professional educator (American history and political science), I am concerned with the apparent lack of information concerning representative democracy in the town of Andover. I have been of the conviction, and still believe, that the will of the participating majority determines who shall represent the people for a specific period of time.

Those people, who give of themselves, in seeking office are evaluated during each and every election. However, while serving in office, the representative of the people must decide his or her personal philosophy of governance. Given that one is working within the code of law, it becomes his/her decision in individual leadership style to make decisions from their personal convictions or to be a conduit of the expressed will of the people. I would argue that the latter, especially in today's society, gives an undue and unfair advantage to the group willing to make enough noise and disruption to achieve their individual goals. The will of the people spoke when electing each and every candidate that presently sits on our School Committee. In no way am I discouraging dissent, in fact, I encourage it.

For people and your paper to be suggesting that the system is not working effectively in Andover is a gross injustice. For your paper to call the process "bogus" is...well, frankly...I question your motives. The process was open, involved and what is expected and required in a democratic society.

Are you suggesting that the duly elected leaders of the people do not have the right to express their personal convictions in the selection of an administrator? Even if their decisions seem to be going against public opinion? The emphasis clearly being on "seem" because I would ask your paper to report on the numbers of people participating on these search committees and those attending School Committee meetings concerning the selection of a superintendent.

Are you or anyone advocating that the small vocal minority outweigh the will of the majority as expressed in the form of our "representative democracy" (each and every member of the School Committee)? These advisory and search committees are not representative of the will of the people because they are not elected but rather appointed for their non-binding input.

In the final analysis, with adherence to a well-defined process that was open to all, the will of the people has spoken in a democratic fashion. When the public is asked to express its will next year, the process will continue. Thank goodness we are not required to have to agree with the vocal minority, we are not required to be swayed by presentations of sixth-graders, we are not even required to agree with the "majority," hell, we are not even required to vote. Sure the process does have flaws, but to paraphrase Winston Churchill, it's the best we have. It's alive and well and working in the town of Andover.

Appalled at his neighbors' comments

Editor, Townsmen:

As a member of the "very vocal minority" in Andover, I am appalled at what my neighbors had to say. One letter (signed by two people though written in the first person) commented on how Andrew Shen, Aaryn Schmulh, Andrew Ewalt, Sarah Weir and Kevin Shepard could draw such conclusions about Dr. Krewer as to say he is "a creator, a lover, and a giver with the compassion, vision, and ability to make the Andover school system the best it can possibly be" after spending only 30 minutes with him. Well, I would think Dr. Krewer must be a great man and have made a great impression on the students for them to praise him so highly after such a brief meeting.

It may be a sad but true fact that four of the five School Committee members came into the debriefing session with statements already written out for the candidate that they endorsed. This just made the whole debriefing session futile - demonstrating once again the need for change the "very vocal minority" is calling for.

It is naive to think that just because Mr. Neal was elected he is going to be grew up in Wilmington, married a Scottish immigrant named Eliza Messer, and together they built their family home up on the plains of Ballardvale. Eliza worked as a weaver and Charles as a coachman at the Ballardvale mills.

Their son, Roy Pearson Sr., grew up there and, with his wife, Bessie May, lived quiet lives of fortitude and family devotion. They are still fondly remembered by some older residents of Ballardvale.

Roy and Bessie May Pearson strongly encouraged their son's academic pursuits. My father and Sarah's "Grampy," Roy Pearson Jr., would marry Ruth Simmons and eventually exceed the high hopes of his parents, becoming president of Andover Newton Theological School after many years in the parish ministry.

In the chapel of that school, on May 28, 1988, my father did my wife and I the honor of performing the ceremony that united us in marriage. He would also, almost two years later, baptize Sarah there. Roy Pearson Jr.'s greatest gift has always been the giving of himself.

An enduring and endearing memory I have of my grandfather, Roy Pearson Sr., is sitting on his lap as a small child in his Ballardvale home. Now my own daughter - like her sister, Laura, before - has that same daily ritual with me. The generations pass. Some vital legacies remain.

Tonight, with Sarah sound asleep on my lap in our family room, my wife and I speak about Sarah's legacies and her hopes for parental longevity. For her and for us, we want Sarah to have both.

We want Sarah to understand, accept and appreciate that, within her genetic memory, as part of her own unique personality, is the capacity to develop any or all of the following:

- The patriotism of Orsemus Chapman, recognizing that, on this shrinking planet, she is first and foremost a citizen of the world.

- The survival skills of Charles Chapman/Pearson, hoping that, if she ever has to use them, she remembers that life is more than survival.

- The empathy of Henry and Martha Pearson, believing that it can, must and should extend beyond immediate family.

- The dignity of Roy and Bessie May Pearson, knowing that private lives of merit neither request nor require public praise.

- The faith of Roy and Ruth Pearson, sharing their awareness that the tenets of religion contain challenges as well as comforts.

The past has provided Sarah with invaluable legacies of love. During the precious time my wife and I have with her, we will share those gifts with Sarah and add to them for her. With luck, we will watch her (hopefully slowly) grow into full adulthood as we gradually grow older.

Tonight, while Sarah peacefully dreams, my wife and I talk about the closing line of a favorite W.B. Yeats poem, "Tread softly because you tread on my dreams." Those are wise words we need to heed with Sarah.

We need to tread softly when sharing Sarah's legacies with her and our hopes for her. Lessons of love should always be freely given gifts: options without obligations and blessings without burdens.

We need to tread softly when Sarah chooses to share her dreams for the future with us. While we have learned much about the past, she will experience more of the future. In this world, where wide-awake nightmares sometimes dominate the news, the totally untrampled and fully developed dreams of Sarah and every other child need to be encouraged and nourished to fulfillment.

supported 100 percent. He has yet to prove to many of us that he was, in fact, the best candidate for the job.

I was also dismayed by the attitude taken that the youth of Andover don't deserve any power. Andover, as a community, should be very proud of its educated, outspoken youth who have the desire to be heard - whether it be a Youth Council presentation of a youth center at a town meeting, or a sixth-grader who has the courage to address a room full of adults in regards to the selection of a superintendent who will have much say in this boy's future.

The youth of Andover are very vocal, opinionated and educated. They deserve to be heard and empowered.

Can we trust the Townsman?

Editor Townsman:

I've lived in Andover for most of my life and am a father of three preschool-age children. Because of family and professional responsibilities, I'm unable to attend School Committee meetings nor be as active a participant as I would like. I make it my business to keep on top of educational news. I've counted on the Townsman for years as my primary source of local news. In the past year, the Townsman has led me to believe that the School Committee has been a total failure and that the Andover school system has become abysmal.

I'm now wondering - can I trust the Townsman? What I read is a relentless bashing of now Superintendent Dick Neal and three members of the School Committee. It is understandable that the editor would be opinionated and partisan in her editorials. However, the reporting itself lacks any objectivity when it concerns issues that are important to her. There is complete disregard for balance and fairness. Is it due to political differences? Personal friendships? Why did the Townsman monitor Dick Neal's voting as a private citizen at Town Meeting? Is there a hidden agenda or does the Townsman have Dick Neal "under surveillance?"

I'd like to read more about educational issues and concerns rather than conspiracy theories and personal attacks. If the Townsman has differences with Dick Neal and three members of the School Committee, then let's have an open and fair debate over the issues and solutions. Let's not create an atmosphere where those who disagree with the Townsman are discouraged from participating in the process. Just report the news and keep opinions on the editorial page.

Many people, groups and even the Townsman have called for a "healing process." This would be positive. Let the Townsman set the example and take the first step. I hope the Townsman will listen and stop being a catalyst for divisiveness. Balanced reporting of the news would be informative and refreshing.

Seniors clarify position on expansion plans

Editor, Townsman:

The approval of Article 28 at Town Meeting in April permitted the lease to (the building housing the Senior Center) to be amended to allow for renovations and the expansion of the Senior Center. The Council on Aging has the following statement in re an attempt to clarify its position.

Ideally, we were hoping to build a new senior center, designed to meet both our present needs as well as those of a fast-growing aging population. Efforts toward a new center seemed to go nowhere, so we turned our attention toward the existing site.

The vote at the Town Meeting signified support from the community to expand within the existing structure. It is our intention to pursue this option.

The School Committee has expressed concern about "giving up" space in this building (east wing) which presently houses both the Senior Center (on the first floor) and school administration (on the second and third floors).

It is not our desire to create conflict or hardship. We sympathize with the School Committee. Both they and the Council on Aging are mandated and accountable to their respective "constituency."

If, in an effort to be reasonable, we explore options presented by the selectmen, the town manager or the School Committee, we do not want to be misunderstood. We are firmly committed to expanding at the present site, as voted on at Town Meeting.

minium development of our property at 66 Poor St.

Under the proposed development, there will be no material changes to the existing house. There will be an addition which will be architecturally compatible to the existing house and the neighborhood. Gerry Welch, an Andover builder, took care to design the new addition in such a way that it will continue to look like a single-family residence.

The dimensions of the structure meet current building laws, including for instance, height, which will be no higher than a single family house.

The property is over three-quarters of an acre and was rezoned over 10 years ago from residential to apartment. It appears to be the last parcel of land zoned for apartments in Andover. The location is well-suited for condominiums due to its proximity to shopping and commuting. It is not located in the middle of a single-family residential neighborhood. The property abuts a two-family rental property on one side, condominiums on the other, and is diagonally across the street from general business-zoned buildings, which are currently being used as such. It is within one block from a bank, liquor store, post office, Route 28 and Route 133.

As someone who grew up in this part of town, it was very important to me to ensure that the overall characteristics of the project would blend with the surrounding neighborhood. I strongly believe that the proposed project will successfully combine historical preservation and real estate development.

PA responds to neighbors' petition

The following is a copy of the letter that Phillips Academy sent to the Abbot Street/Prides Circle Neighborhood Association in response to its recent petition and a letter from Mr. Whidden, which was published May 18.

Dear neighbors:

Thank you for your petition dated

May 1, 1995, regarding Phillips Academy's undeveloped land on Abbot Street. The trustees reviewed your petition on May 11, 1995, and have authorized me to respond on their behalf.

I would like to review the facts as I understand them for the benefit of all parties. Much of the approximately 23 acres of land on Abbot Street owned by Phillips Academy lies in Prides Circle, a subdivision of 17 lots approved by the town 30 years ago; the Academy owns 12 of these lots. The remaining Academy property is not currently subdivided and abuts an 11-acre undeveloped parcel owned by another party.

This past winter, Mr. John McGarry, the president of Coolidge Construction, a construction firm in North Andover, purchased a Prides Circle lot which gave him access from Prides Circle to the 11-acre parcel of interior land mentioned above. Mr. McGarry reached an agreement with the property owner granting him the right to propose a residential development on the property. This proposed development would have an access road through the Prides Circle lot which Mr. McGarry purchased. Mr. McGarry advised Phillips Academy of his intent to submit such a development proposal to the town. Phillips Academy has no connection with, responsibility for or control over Mr. McGarry's proposal.

After Mr. McGarry told the Academy of his proposed development, Mr. Neil H. Cullen, chief financial officer of the Academy, and Mrs. Susan Stott, the Academy's Director of Business Services, as trustee spokespersons regarding the Academy's Abbot Street land, invited Abbot Street neighbors to a March 29, 1995, meeting on campus. Also attending the meeting at the Academy's invitation were John McGarry so that he could describe his proposal and representatives of the Conservation Commission and the Andover Village Improvement Society (AVIS) so they could acquaint the neighbors with the possibilities for preserving some of the open land for public use. Mrs. Stott advised those in attendance that the Academy had received an offer to purchase most of the Academy's Prides Circle lots, and she encouraged any neighbors interested in purchasing Academy lots to give-her a written offer by April 30, 1995, for Academy consideration. In addition, Mrs. Stott advised those present of the trustees' preference for a cluster residential development incorporating both the land owned by Phillips Academy and the land controlled by Mr. McGarry since a cluster development would protect the western edge of the Academy campus and preserve a significant portion of open space. Mr. McGarry expressed his willingness to explore the cluster development option with the Academy.

Mrs. Stott held two subsequent meetings with interested neighbors on April 5 and April 19 to facilitate further discussions. She also wrote to neighbors on April 28, 1995, advising of recent developments.

In brief, the Academy has advised all interested parties of the development options under discussion, expressed its clear preference for a cluster development, which will preserve some open land, encouraged neighbors to work directly with the Conservation Commission and AVIS, advised all parties of its interest in continuing to protect the western edge of the campus from encroachment, and noted that Mr. McGarry is proceeding with a development with or without the Academy's involvement. In addition, the Academy has advised neighbors that it is considering offers to purchase the existing residential building lots which it owns in Prides Circle.

You have raised concerns about both water runoff and public safety. The Academy shares these concerns and takes comfort in the rigorous public review process. The engineers have taken these concerns into consideration in the planning that has been completed to date. The town boards which will review this project are charged with protecting the interests of present and future owners with respect to both of these issues and will not approve a subdivision plan that does not adequately address both the wetlands and traffic issues of this site.

In your petition, you observe correctly that the Academy has a large endowment but conclude incorrectly that the school, therefore, must have sufficient resources. In fact, the Academy is seeking additional endowment resources and other funds to support its educational program. The income generated from the sale of Academy land will be used to address genuine school needs. The decision to sell is based on the fact that development will occur with or without Academy participation and on the need to realize a financial return from an asset acquired almost 30 years ago.

I hope I have clarified the Academy's position on these matters. I assure you that the trustees are willing to work with all interested parties to facilitate a cluster development for residential housing that will prove suitable for the neighborhood. I encourage you to contact Neil Cullen or Susan Stott if you would like to participate in such a dialogue.

Editor, Townsman:

I wish to address concerns raised by Ms. Anderson, a member of the Andover Youth Council (herein referred to as "council"), relative to the proposed teen center's failure to realize fruition. One can only imagine how disheartening she and her colleagues must feel watching their pet project begin to disintegrate. In light of this, I must admit their willingness to continue charging forward is notable.

It is nice to see youngsters who are not only willing to enjoin in unity and commitment, but are willing to seek avenues of compromise when their proposition isn't passed the first time. I give Ms. Anderson and her associates and A+ for effort. In retrospect, their ideas received serious consideration from our community. Further, their idea received a strong showing of support when put to a vote. Their willingness to seek compromise will prove their idea as fruitful and will reign victoriously in time.

I am a life-long resident of Andover and continue in residence because it is a safe, bedroom community. My only major gripe, perhaps, is that Andover is a terribly boring place to live. When my parents were young, there was a ballroom in town for dancing. To this day, you frequently hear our oldtimers reflect upon that period in time. During my tenure as a teen, no communal sites of recreation existed for our enjoyment. To this day, I vividly remember the discontentment felt by myself and my peers.

Over the years I have watched Andover in a continual transition. What once used to be endless farmland and endless acreage of forest has steadily diminished by development. Remaining is but a mere fraction of the woodlands that once graced our town. It is for this reason that I for one oppose to razing of the Recreation Park.

How then might the teen committee sway the opposition into becoming adversarial counterparts? To begin, I for one will never support any projects which compromise our remaining woodlands. Where then might we be able to construct such a center? The first place which comes to mind are the old sand pits. I was saddened upon learning that the South School was actively seeking same, simply for added play area. In my opinion, the pits are a prime location for the proposed teen center, inherently providing access to Poms Pond as well as the Recreation Park. Quite simply, the masses would be better served by a center located at the pit location, rather than being transformed into a play area.

Potential benefits of situating the center at the pit location, in whole or in part, follows: (A) the pits comprise a vast area which have served no useful purpose for as long as I recall; (B) the pit area is dry and open, thus an ideal site for the construction of a center; (C) currently in existence are two access roads with potential for a total of five via the clearing of older, existing avenues; (D) the proposed center would be in close proximity to the Recreation Park and Poms Pond, thus permitting arenas for outdoor activity; (E) the Recreation Park would maintain its simplicity while utilizing more completely the existing areas located within its confines.

Proposition No. 2, a solid selling feature relative to a center, is not limiting its usage to teens alone. Rather, subdivide the complex, thus providing an arena whereby all our citizens of all age groups with a place to frequent. I for one would be excited about such a prospect whereby all of Andover's citizenry had a safe, free, enjoyable place to socialize and have fun.

To Ms. Anderson and associates, your ideals are wonderful, your persistence admirable. Compromise with wisdom. Best wishes, Dr. Mark Vens, Ph.D., a potential adversary, and at your disposal in re for consultation.

Seeking alternatives to felling trees at South

Editor, Townsman:

As some in town may already be aware the forest behind the South School has been selected to be destroyed to make room for three more sports fields. This would bring the total number of fields to six. As community members and parents of South School children we are opposed to this proposal for the following reasons:

- While acknowledging the importance of sports and the needed playing fields (both of our children play T-ball), we feel that the South School area, with two baseball diamonds and one new soccer field, is already at maximum use.

- The streets surrounding the South School cannot support the existing playing fields, as evidenced by the lack of off-street parking when the baseball diamonds are in use. Andover and Woburn streets are congested with cars parked on both sides when only the baseball diamonds are being used. The existing soccer field (carved out of the forest last year) will only add to this congestion.

- The proposed playground for South School students (who have none this year because of the on-going construction) will not be possible if the current town plan for sports fields is adopted. In its place there will be a parking lot. This is an insult to the students of South School and the many dedicated parents who have worked tirelessly to raise funds for this important part of a child's total development.

- Sports fields can be built in many locations, but it takes decades to grow a forest like the one behind South School. Destroying forests for more organized sports teaches kids a value lesson that many parents are not in agreement with.

In addition:

- South School parents, whose children's learning environment will be directly impacted by the clearing of the forest, were never informed of this decision by anyone from the town including the School Committee.

- Until residents of the area spoke up there was to be no public hearing on this proposed use of town-owned land. It was a done deal and may still be.

Until recently Andover has had the reputation of a well-managed town that gave serious concern to the education and learning environment of its children. The handling of recent educational concerns (the circumstances surrounding the resignation of Dr. Campbell [we hope we aren't considered a "lynch mob"] and the apparent disregard for parents and students in the superintendent selection process, are recent examples), demonstrate that this may not be the case. Is this hasty decision another example that this is not the case? We hope not.

We urge the School Committee and the selectmen to seriously and honestly consider alternatives to this plan.

Five AHS gymnastic greats compete nationally

By Rick Harrison

How many high school athletes get a chance to put the designation "national champion" with their name?

Five Andover gymnasts will have the opportunity to make a once-in-a-lifetime dream come true over the Memorial Day weekend, when they compete in the 10th annual National High School Gymnastics Tournament in San Jose, California.

The Andover squad forms one-third of Team Massachusetts, an elite 15-member squad that left Logan Airport at 6:15 this morning on a TWA flight to the Golden State.

The Andover competitors are seniors Marcie Lutsch, Bob Ellis, Scott Nicholson, Barry Dubois and Irene Shui.

Shui injured

Irene Shui, unfortunately, injured her back more than three weeks ago.

"Tuesday night she said, 'It is unknown whether I will be able to compete, but I hope to compete in vault,'"

"It's too bad for Irene and for us," (if she can't vault) said women's assistant head coach Dave Thomson. "She would have helped the team alot."

Each helped Andover High to strong showings at the 1995 men's and women's state team championships three months ago. Coach Steve Sirois' men tied for second place and coach Julie Curtis-Chapman's women finished fourth.

Massachusetts will be one of 43 states represented at the Nationals, as 600 of the top interscholastic gymnasts from all corners of the United States take part in four days of intense competition.

"This is a very serious meet," said coach Sirois, who is serving as the Bay State team's assistant men's coach alongside head coach Dave Simkins of Newton North High. "Our kids have been working out almost every day since the high school season ended in February to prepare for the Nationals."

There will be both individual and team champions crowned in San Jose.

Two Andover gymnasts are given a legitimate shot at winning individual national titles in their specialties.

Bob Ellis is an outstanding vaulter and Scott Nicholson is the reigning state champion on the rings (9.4 top score).

Overall competition for the men will be on rings, pommel horse, high bar, parallel bars and in vaulting and floor exercise.

The women will compete on the uneven bars, balance beam, in floor exercise and vaulting.

The Massachusetts boys are currently ranked third in the nation, behind Texas and Indiana.

Exhibition meets

Team Massachusetts held three exhibition meets at Lincoln-Sudbury High since March to stay sharp, the most recent and final one three weeks ago.

It is from these meets Simkins, Sirois and women's head coach Joan Lothrop of the Yellow Jackets Gymnastics Club in Danvers were to decide which athletes compete in each event and in the all-around at the Nationals.

Each team is allowed two all-arounds and Ellis is among three being considered for the available men's slots.

Reigning state all-around champion Chris Taylor of Burlington is practically assured one all-around berth, leaving Ellis and Scott Champagne of Attleboro High to battle it out for the other spot.

Joining Ellis, Nicholson, Dubois (a rings and parallel bars specialist), Taylor and Champagne on the seven-member men's squad are Seth Slater of Attleboro and Brian Langan of Newton North.

Completing the eight-member women's team are 1994 state individual champ Renee Sestito of North Andover, Kateri Hauck of Reading High, Becky Johnson of Acton-Boxboro, Karin Gauthier of Westford Academy, Jenna Murphy of Canton and Corey Martin of Attleboro.

Andover High women's coach Chapman will also make the trip, along with most of the Andover athletes' parents.

"We had several meetings to plan the trip, and at last count I believe we had 42 people who expressed an interest in going," said coach Sirois.

All of the money was raised independently by each individual. The bare-bones cost is $500 which covers plane fare, hotel room and meals.

Ellis ready

"I've never been to California before and I'm really looking forward to the trip and the competition," said Ellis, an 18-year-old who is undecided about college.

He plans to work full-time this summer and perhaps train with the Yellow Jackets.

"I'd like to continue with gymnastics," said Ellis, who placed third in the state all-around competition in February. "I was told by an instructor at Danvers if I keep working out and competing at a high level I could be an elite gymnast in a year."

"The way the kids have been working out, if we had the states all over again tomorrow we'd probably win it," said Sirois.

"I've been going to Yellow Jackets an average of five nights a week to prepare for the Nationals," said Ellis. "I've taken some private lessons to get extra moves down, and I anticipate being a lot better. I have eight new moves, including at least one for every piece of apparatus."

Awesome vault

"Bobby has a vault that no one else around here does," said coach Sirois. "I'm looking forward to watching the faces of the people in California when he does it for the first time."

"If I can throw it and stick it I have a chance at a National title," said Ellis. "It's a vault you might see in Olympic trials, and I've heard a few guys say they've seen it in college meets. But I don't think anyone else in high school does it."

Volleyball serves up that championship season, again

By Rick Harrison

The Andover High men's varsity volleyball team clinched its third straight North Alliance championship, its fifth title in seven years, and closed in on a perfect regular season record and 100 career victories following recent 2-0 sweeps of Brockton, Billerica, Dracut and St. John's Prep.

Those wins boosted coach George Sullivan's squad, a legitimate threat to win the state title this spring, to 18-0 overall and 13-0 in the Alliance.

The Golden Warriors played at Methuen yesterday, and conclude the 1995 regular campaign tomorrow afternoon with a non-league match at Latin Academy in Boston.

Victories in those two matches would be the 99th and 100th in the seven-year existence of the program.

The State Tournament pairings are scheduled to be released early next week.

Andover 2 Billerica 0

The Golden Warriors sputtered early before hitting stride for a 15-8, 15-2 sweep.

"We weren't in the gym mentally for the first game, but the sign of a good team is one that can win without its best effort," said coach Sullivan.

"The seniors were pre-occupied thinking about a class trip to the Red Sox game that night. We had also squashed Billerica on Good Friday, so our guys must have figured this match was going to be easy, too."

"We eventually pulled ourselves together, and although the timing was off on our passes we managed to work our way through the match."

Captain Tim Foley was 13-for-18 hitting, with seven kills, and 9-for-11 serving with three aces.

Captain Sean Croteau finished 16-for-17 hitting, with five kills, and 10-for-11 serving.

Junior Joe Hogarty was perfect with 8-for-8 hitting, including five kills, and 10-for-10 serving with three aces.

Senior middle-hitter Matt Gibson went 6-for-10 hitting (one kill), senior Abdul Ortiz 5-for-5 hitting (two kills), and junior outside hitter Pat Hess was 13-for-13 serving (three aces).

Women's track captures third MVC championship

By Rick Harrison

The Andover High women's spring track and field team completed an impressive sweep of 1995 Merrimack Valley Conference championship honors recently.

The Lady Warriors clinched the league Large School Division dual meet title last Thursday with a victory over Haverhill, and less than 48 hours later won the team crown in the annual Conference Championship Meet at Lowell's sun-drenched Cawley Memorial Stadium.

AHS authored a perfect 7-0 dual meet season, capturing its third straight MVC outdoor championship with a resounding 98 1/2 to 37 1/2 victory over Haverhill at the Eugene V. Lovely oval.

That triumph stretched Andover's league win streak through 23 meets. Coach Dick Collins' squad and Haverhill had approached the showdown tied for first place in the division, but the locals left no doubt who was the better team.

The AHS women were not seriously challenged in dual meets all spring, with the closest margin of victory 24 points (over Methuen).

Methuen gave Andover a surprising run for top honors at the Championship Meet, but the Lady Warriors were able to pull out a one-point (132-131) victory.

The Andover men also capped an excellent 7-1 dual meet campaign with a 97-48 romp over Haverhill, finishing second to unbeaten Central Catholic in the Large School Division.

They were also runner-up to CCHS at the Championship Meet, scoring 94 1/2 points while the Red Raiders totaled 126.

Earning automatic All-Conference honors with victories last Saturday were Susan Ashlock (two-mile), record-setter Missy Famiglietti (triple jump), Mike Marcino (long jump), Eskinder Graham (two-mile) and Peter Ellis (pole vault).

Both Andover teams will be chasing State Class B titles this Saturday at Reading High (9:30 a.m.), and those individuals who qualify by finishing top six will advance to the All-State Meet on Saturday, June 3 at Smith College, located in western Massachusetts on the Amherst/Northampton town line.

The New England Championship Meet at Brown University in Providence, R.I. wraps up the season.

MVC Championship Meet

Following Andover (132) and Methuen (131) in the 10-school girls' division team standings were Tewksbury (93 points), Haverhill (66), Chelmsford (40), Lowell (26), Billerica (25), Lawrence (10), Wilmington (4) and Dracut (1).

First place finishers for the champions were Susan Ashlock in the duce (11:31.6), triple jumper Missy Famiglietti (34'5 3/4"), and the 4x800 meter relay quartet of Kollene Cronin, Abby Clarke, Viki Pierce and Ashlock (10:11.8).

Ashlock's strong 2:16 anchor leg insured the victory in that race, by 2.2 seconds over runner-up Tewksbury, and ultimately was a huge key to the team victory.

Famiglietti's prodigious leap, although not a school or personal mark, was one of four new meet records established in the women's division.

Placing second were triple jumper Allyson Ahern (33'7"), shot putter Kim Daher (32'5 1/2"), Captain Jamie Barron in both the long jump (15'7") and 100-meter dash (13.06), and Amy Levesque (photo finish 200 meters, 26.5).

Third places went to high jumper Stephanie Brown (4'10"), Beth Cummins (javelin, 94'9"), Randi Spiegel (100 meters, 13.17), Barbara Contos (100-meter high hurdles, 15.83) and the 4x400 meter relay team (4:16.8).

Earning fourths for AHS were shot putter Sue Tully (30'2 1/2"), Leah Mason (javelin, 94'1 1/2"), long jumper Evelyn Yang (15'2"), Christine Contos (discus, 87'11"), Abby Clarke (800 meters, 2:30.7), Julie Rozopoulos (100-meter hurdles, 17.52) and miler Erin Collins (5:43.8).

The lone fifth place went to Amanda Verreault (400 meters, 62.1).

Sixth places, which turned out to be crucial, were taken by Courtney Barron (300-meter hurdles, 49.10) and miler Megan Roth (5:58.0).

Making the meet much closer was a fumbled baton exchange by the Andover 4x100 meter sprint relay team. The Lady Warriors were expected to win this race, but instead did not place while Methuen earned 10 valuable points with a victory.

Methuen earned the majority of its points by winning eight of the 17 events, including the

Tennis teams net two MV crowns

By Rick Harrison

The Andover High men's and women's tennis teams made it official on Monday afternoon, sweeping to identical 5-0 victories over Chelmsford to clinch their respective Merrimack Valley Conference championships once again.

Those wins, coupled with other recent triumphs against Lawrence and Tewksbury High, gave the twin AHS court powers insurmountable division leads.

Coach Mike Wartman's men, in winning their third straight MVC title and 10th in the last 12 years, improved to 15-0 in league play and 15-1 overall. All 15 victories have been shutouts.

Coach Tony Russo's AHS women moved to 14-0 overall, well ahead of co-runnerup Chelmsford at 9-3, and stretched their MVC win streak through 79 straight matches.

The championship is the sixth straight for the Andover women, who have struggled more than the men with a pair of 3-2 wins and a pair of 4-1 decisions to go with 10 shutouts.

Andover-Chelmsford

The Golden Warrior men lost only six games in six singles' sets, as junior Captain Mike Stein defeated the Lions' Josh Jordan 6-2, 6-0 at No. 1, junior Captain Kurt Dahlstrand toppled Eric Major 6-0, 6-2 at No. 2, and sophomore Ross Fenton slugged Tim Cormier 6-2, 6-0 at No. 3 to complete the sweep. In doubles, juniors Andy Ravens and Ravi Tharasayi were pushed hard before beating Chelmsford's Jeff DelPapa and Scott Johnson 6-4, 7-5. Second doubles was smoother as juniors Jay Levine and Marc Formicella cruised to a 6-1, 6-1 conquest of Chris Wu and Tom Griffin.

The Andover women established their superiority in singles as undefeated sophomore No. 1 Heather Young raced past the Lady Lions' Jen Waber, 6-1, 6-1, and senior Captain Jen Griffin handled Erin Walsh 6-0, 7-5 at No. 2.

Freshman Lauren Roda had to work longer for her point at third singles, edging past Anjali Ramachandra in three sets 6-2, 4-6, 6-3.

In doubles, the top AHS tandem of senior Jackie LeMaitre and junior Andrea Marvin remained invincible with a 6-3, 6-2 victory over Chelms-ford's Kaley MacDonald and Chrissi Crow.

Senior Captain Kelly Mitchell and junior Meghan Pauley capped the women's shutout with a 6-2, 6-2 dispatch of Diana Yu and Emily Sullivan.

Andover women

The Lady Warriors flirted with disaster for the second time in nine days before escaping with a 3-2 victory over upset-minded Lawrence. The crucial win came at first doubles, where juniors Meghan Pauley and Cindy Su battled to a three-set 6-4, 6-7, 6-1 triumph to earn the deciding point.

The other triumphs were both in singles, where Lauren Roda stepped in at No. 1 and rolled to a 6-1, 6-1 triumph and sophomore Catherine Bakulski captured a hard-fought 6-4, 7-5 decision at No. 3.

Freshmen Lisa Rogers and Sarah Tuman dropped a tough three-setter in their varsity debut at second doubles, and junior Kristen Marsh also played well but came out on the short end at second singles.

In a 5-0 blitz of Tewksbury, AHS dominated every match from start to finish with easy singles victories by Cindy Su at No. 1 (6-0, 6-0), Kristen Marsh at No. 2 (6-0, 6-0) and Dara Ekster at No. 3 (6-2, 6-1). In doubles, the romps were registered by Catherine Bakulski and Sarah Plamondon at No. 1 (6-1, 6-2), and the freshmen tandem of Emily Wilner and Rebecca Parks at No. 2 (6-1, 6-1).

Andover men

The Golden Warriors continued an unprecedented string of overpowering performances and 5-0 victories with the shutouts of Tewksbury and Lawrence.

Earning the AHS singles wins decided on the court were Marc Formicella at No. 1 (6-3, 6-2) and freshman Dave Gutstein at No. 2 (6-0, 6-0), while seniors Scott Munroe and Chris Ouellette rolled 6-1, 6-1 at first doubles.

The Lancers offered little resistance as Andover galloped to easy singles wins by Ross Fenton at No. 1 (6-4, 6-0), Jay Levine at No. 2 (6-2, 6-1) and sophomore Dave Sullivan at No. 3 (6-0, 6-0).

In doubles, freshman Alan Hibino and junior Joel Elzweig cruised (6-0, 6-3) and the junior duo of Jeff Isenberg and Mike Wellikoff coasted (6-0, 6-1).

On the 11-team men's side, Central (126) and Andover (94 1/2) were trailed by third-place Tewksbury (81 points), Lowell (50 1/2), Haverhill (46), Lawrence (45 1/2), Billerica (40 1/2), Methuen (30), Wilmington (25 1/2), Dracut (12) and Chelmsford (6 1/2).

Golden Warrior victors were long jumper Mike Marcinonis (19'6"), two-miler Eskinder Graham (10:03.4) and pole vaulter Peter Ellis (12'6").

Placing second was pole vaulter Dan Taylor (12'6").

Finishing third for AHS were Rudy Morando (javelin, 155'7 1/2"), triple jumper Adam Westaway (41'2 1/2"), miler Charlie Russo (4:34.0), high jumper Chris Hall (6'2"), the 4x100 meter sprint relay quartet (44.7) and the 4x800 meter relay crew (8:26.0).

Scott Savage had the lone fourth place in the triple jump (40'5 1/4"), and he also took sixth in the 110-meter high hurdles (16.3).

Placing fifth were brothers Steve Muench (shot put, 44'11 1/4") and Matt Muench (discus, 120'10"), along with Eric DeMarco (300-meter intermediate hurdles, 42.10), Matt Ely (800 meters, 2:00.2), Jeff Arsenault (100 meters, 11.6), Josh Hatch (200 meters, 23.3) and the 4x400 meter relay four- some (3:34.1).

Also placing sixth were long jumper Tim Smith (18'11"), and Kevin Shepard who tied for that spot in the 400 meter dash (52.7).

There were seven new meet records established in the men's division, and a number of remarkable performances including a winning 51" shot put toss by Andover resident and Central Catholic student Ned Finneran.

There was also a state-best 38.7 clocking in the 300-meter hurdles by Tewksbury's Dan Clark, a blistering 4:26.7 mile by Adam Manoli of Billerica, a scorching 1:55.9 in the 800 meters by Wilmington's Greg Young, a 22.3 in the 200 meters from Haverhill's Steve Swanson, and a 3:24.9 clocking by the Tewksbury 4x400 meter relay team.

Andover women 98 1/2 Haverhill 37 1/2

The Lady Warriors placed first in 13 of the 16 events, sweeping the javelin, 100-meter high hurdles and both relays to bury the Hillies.

Junior jumper Missy Famiglietti once again registered a double win, as Andover outscored Haverhill 30 1/2-23 1/2 in the field events and by a whopping 68-14 in the running events.

Famiglietti was victorious in her specialties, the long jump (17'11") and triple jump (36' 1/2").

The javelin sweep was accomplished by winner Beth Cummins (102'9"), senior Kim Daher and senior Leah Mason, while cleaning house in the 100-meter hurdles were freshman Barbara Contos (16.2), freshman Courtney Barron and Julie Rozopoulos.

The victorious 4x100 meter relay quartet consisted of junior Randi Spiegel, senior Captain Amy Levesque, junior Laura Burkle and senior Captain Jamie Barron at anchor (51.4).

The 4x400 meter relay foursome included Beth Murphy, Brianne Nally, Ellen Buckley and anchor Jocelyn Gould (4:49.2).

The Barron sisters also captured one individual first place each, Jamie in the 100-meter dash (13.1) and Courtney in the 300-meter hurdles (48.5).

Also notching victories in the title-clinching meet were Levesque in the 200 meters (26.1), senior Amanda Verreault (400 meters, 64.3), sophomore Abby Clarke (800 meters, 2:30.0), junior miler Susan Ashlock in a swift 5:11.0, and junior two-miler Erin Collins (12:38.0).

Additional runners-up were Daher (shot put), junior Allyson Ahern (triple jump), sophomore high jumper Stephanie Brown, freshman Sarah Muller (300-meter intermediate hurdles), sprinters Spiegel (100 meters) and freshman Charlotte Muller (400 meters), and freshman two-miler Catherine Blais.

Also placing third were Christine Contos (discus), Jamie Barron (long jump), Sarah Muller (tied in high jump), Burkle (200 meters) and sophomore Kolleen Cronin (800 meters).

Andover men 97 Haverhill 48

The Golden Warriors placed first in 11 of the 17 events, sweeping the discus, pole vault, 110-meter high hurdles and two-mile while outscoring Haverhill 47-16 in the seven field events and 50-32 in the 10 running events.

First place finishers for AHS were sophomore Matt Muench (discus, 124'6"), senior long jumper Mike Marcinonis (21'0"), junior triple jumper Adam Westaway (43'2 1/2"), senior Captains Jon Hall (high jump, 6'4"), Kevin Shepard (400 meters, personal-best 52.9) and Matt Ely (800 meters, 2:03.1).

Also, junior pole vaulter Dan Taylor (12'0"), senior hurdler Scott Savage (110-meter highs, 15.4), junior hurdler Eric DeMarco (300-meter intermediates, personal-best 41.9), junior miler Charlie Russo (4:44.0) and senior two-miler Eskinder Graham (10:24.0).

The sweeps were accomplished by Jon Blais and Craig Hartwell (discus), Vin Dolan and senior Jeff Arsenault (pole vault), DeMarco and junior Mike Shaughnessy (high hurdles), sophomore Todd Collins and Peter DeAngelo (two-mile).

Other Andover runners-up were senior shot putter Steve Muench, junior Rudy Morando (javelin), Westaway (long jump), Savage (triple jump), Arsenault (100 meters), junior sprinter Josh Hatch (200 meters) and sophomore miler Don Pattullo.

Completing the scorers with additional third places were junior shot putter Andy Lynch, sophomore high jumper Tom Woods, Alex Dalis (100 meters), Hall (400 meters) and senior Greg Foltz (800 meters).

JV baseball registers 15-1 with three important victories

By Rick Harrison

The Andover High junior varsity baseball team continued a remarkable season by improving to 15-1 recently.

The team registered victories over Methuen (5-4), Chelmsford (13-12) and Haverhill (5-2) before having its 15-game win streak snapped with a 6-3 loss to Lowell.

Coach Dan Grams' squad was scheduled to conclude its campaign yesterday against Central Catholic.

Statistics

After 15 games the AHS junior varsity had a hefty team batting average of .353.

Leading the way were Steve Vickers at .585 (24-for-41), Rob Oppenheim .452, freshman Ben Gibson .433, Jeff Scott .340 with 22 RBI, freshman Joe Maglio .325, freshmen Jason Monarca .324 and Jack Glazebrook .300.

Andover 5

Methuen 4

Justin Bastinelli (3-0 record) pitched the first 4 2/3 innings en route to the win over the Rangers, while Joe Maglio worked 1 1/3 innings and Jack Glazebrook earned the save with some excellent seventh-inning relief.

Glazebrook came on with the score 5-3, the bases-loaded and no one out in the final inning. After yielding one run, on an error, he struck out the side to preserve the victory.

The trio of Andover hurlers combined for a six-hitter.

The locals tied the game 1-1 in the bottom of the first on sophomore Jeff Scott's sac-fly.

Andover moved ahead with three runs in the second as Dan Gosselin singled, Joe Maglio singled, Jason Monarca walked, Ben Gibson ripped a two-run single and Rob Oppenheim drew a bases-loaded walk.

The eventual winning run came in the sixth as Maglio doubled and later crossed on Monarca's suicide squeeze bunt.

Gibson and Maglio sparked the attack with two safeties each.

Andover 13

Chelmsford 12

In a game as wild as the two Andover-Chelmsford varsity contests, the locals pulled out the high-scoring triumph in the eighth inning.

Joe Maglio, who had three prior saves, earned his first pitching victory with 3 1/3 innings of relief. Rob Busby (three innings) and Dan Gosselin (1 2/3 innings) preceded Maglio to the mound.

Rob Oppenheim led the attack with 3-for-3, including a double, and five RBI. Jack Glazebrook added two hits and scored three runs.

Jeff Scott clouted a three-run double in the six-run second stanza, and Steve Vickers contributed three hits and two RBI.

Ben Gibson hammered two doubles, and Mark Tropeano singled home the winning run.

Ryan Daniels singled and played a solid defensive game at third base, and Jason Monarca lashed a single.

Andover finished with 14 hits and added two-run third, fourth and seventh innings to the six-run second.

Andover 5

Haverhill 2

Righthander Chris Kearns, who pitched a no-hitter earlier this spring, boosted his record to 2-0 with a masterful one-hitter against the Hillies.

Kearns struck out six, walked two and didn't allow an earned run.

Steve Vickers spanked two hits and collected one RBI, Dan Gosselin rapped a run-scoring double and Joe Maglio, an RBI single.

Ben Gibson and Jack Glazebrook contributed one single each, and defensive standouts were the keystone combo of shortstop Glazebrook and second baseman Rob Oppenheim who turned two double-plays.

Andover spotted Haverhill a 2-0 first-inning lead and came back with three runs in the second, one in the third and one in the bottom of the sixth.

Sluggers qualify for Eastern Mass. North tourney

By Rick Harrison

The Andover High varsity baseball team reversed its skid and returned to its winning ways this past week, scoring 60 runs in four games while qualifying for the Eastern Mass. Division 1 North Tournament once again with consecutive victories over Merrimack Valley Conference Large School Division rivals Haverhill (11-5), Chelmsford (5-4), Methuen (31-4) and division champ Lowell (13-1).

The wins against Haverhill and Lowell avenged earlier defeats, while the triumphs over Chelmsford and Methuen completed season series sweeps.

The most exciting victory came against Chelmsford. Mike Maguire stole home with the winning run in the top of the seventh, and relief pitcher Dana McCann turned a line drive to the mound into a game-ending double play after the Lions rallied to score four runs in the bottom of the seventh.

Ironically, in the first Andover-Chelmsford game on April 28, the Lions scored seven runs in the top of the seventh to transform an 11-3 AHS lead into a dramatic 11-10 nailbiter. That game ended with Lions' all-purpose standout Scott Brown thrown out at the plate as the potential tying run.

Coach Ken Maglio's crew was scheduled to conclude conference play yesterday against visiting Central Catholic, and wrap up the regular season this weekend with participation in the annual six-team Lawrence Invitational Tournament at Mark Devlin Field.

Andover, the defending champion, has owned the tourney in recent years and received a quarterfinal round bye. The locals are slated to face the winner of tomorrow's Newburyport-North Andover game on Saturday (4 p.m.) in a semifinal round contest.

Andover 11

Haverhill 5

Tom Clarke went the distance on the mound, tossing a four-hitter, and his teammates backed the big righthander with a 13-hit attack.

"Andover looked like a different team today than the one we beat (7-6) earlier in the year," said Haverhill coach Chip Dunn, an Andover resident whose Hillies have qualified for the Eastern Mass. Tournament for the first time in 40 years. "They did a lot of good things and they're playing pretty good ball down the stretch."

The Golden Warriors broke out top with four runs in the bottom of the second against losing hurler Ricky Hebert.

Captain Tom Gardner walked on four pitches, freshman Jason Caverly walked, Dana McCann placed a perfect bunt single down the third base line, Nate Roberts walked to force home a run, Pete Daniels and Brian Tisbert also walked on 3-2 pitches to make it 3-0, and Captain Mike Maguire lined a two-strike RBI single over the second baseman's glove.

A second runner was thrown out at home on Maguire's single, and the side was finally retired when the ninth batter of the inning popped out.

Andover upped the lead to 6-0 with two runs in the third as Gardner singled, Caverly looped an opposite-field single inches inside the left field chalk stripe, and both runners advanced on McCann's infield out. Robert's dropped a suicide squeeze bunt, and Caverly came home on a wild throw after his wide turn at third base.

Haverhill spoiled Clarke's shutout with two runs in the fifth, one on a balk and the second on a wild pitch.

AHS retaliated with a run in the bottom half as Gardner walked, Caverly singled and Roberts laced a two-out RBI single.

A four-run Warriors' sixth made it 11-2.

Tisbert singled, Maguire ripped a single to center field, Tom Tanin sliced an RBI single to right, Gardner walked, McCann laced a two-run single to right, Roberts and Mark Langone both singled to load the bases, and Daniels once again walked to force home a run.

Haverhill notched three harmless runs in the top of the seventh, the highlight a long two-run triple to right-center by Carlos Pena.

Maguire, Tanin, Caverly, McCann and Roberts led the assault with two hits each, while Gardner went 1-for-1 and scored four runs.

Defensive standouts included second baseman Tanin, who ranged far to his left to make a play in the hole, steady catcher Pete Daniels, and first baseman Gardner who initiated a game-ending double play in the seventh.

Andover 5
Chelmsford 4

In what was almost a carbon-copy, instant replay of their first game, the Golden Warriors hung tough to edge the fast-finishing Lions in a barnburner at the McCarthy Middle School field in Chelmsford.

What looked like a complete-game cake-walk victory for junior righthander Mark Langone turned into an adventure.

Langone (4-1 record) sailed through the first six innings, entering the seventh with a three-hit shutout and a 5-0 lead.

The Golden Warriors, improving their record to 2-3 in one-run games, took a 2-0 lead in the third with a pair of unearned runs. Pete Daniels drew a one-out walk, Brian Tisbert walked, Mike Maguire erased Tisbert with a fielder's choice grounder, and Maguire stole second. Both runners scored when the Chelmsford first baseman dropped the throw on Tom Tanin's infield grounder.

With two outs in the AHS fourth Nate Roberts singled, Dana DiFiore walked and Daniels lashed an RBI single.

The lead jumped to 4-0 in the fifth after Maguire doubled to center field and Gardner laced an RBI double to right.

The eventual winning run came in the top of the seventh as Maguire walked, Tanin doubled and Gardner walked to load the bases with no one out.

Lions' scrappy righthander Scott Brown bore down to strike out the next two batters, which initiated some fancy baserunning by Maguire.

With the count 1-1 on Nate Roberts, Maguire stole home for the third time this season.

"If the pitcher is working from the full windup, and Mike feels he has the timing down, he'll flash me a signal," explained coach Maglio. "If I give him the return signal the play is on."

Maguire's run, which appeared to be frosting on the cake, became vitally important when aroused Chelmsford chased Langone from the mound in the bottom of the seventh.

Ken Duane launched the rally with a double, Lou DiStasi singled, and Clark Gephart belted a two-run double.

Dana McCann relieved Langone and retired the first batter on a fly ball to center. Brown followed with his second triple of the game, making it 5-3, and Brendan Trainer then singled home Brown.

The next batter, Nate Linstad, sent a line drive back to McCann who stabbed it and doubled Trainer off first base to end the game and preserve the exciting win.

Maguire finished 2-for-3, scoring three runs, and Daniels was 2-for-2 with a pair of singles.

Softball earns impressive wins over North Andover and Billerica

By Rick Harrison

Running the gamut from blowouts to seat-squirreling come-from-behind extra-inning victories, the Andover High varsity softball team put some spice in its season with a 19-0 romp over North Andover and an impressive 5-4 nine-inning win against Billerica last week.

Coach Ken Pellerin's Lady Warriors were scheduled to conclude their 1995 campaign with four games this week.

Andover 19 - North Andover 0

The locals completed a non-league sweep of the Scarlet Knights, whom they also blasted 20-4 in the season opener, as junior righthander Vanessa Blank tossed a two-hitter with five strikeouts (three caught looking) and two walks.

Andover scored in every frame, and the game was called after five innings by the 15-run mercy rule. It was the Lady Warriors' first shutout victory this spring.

The winners sent 12 batters to the plate and raced to a 6-0 lead in the top of the first at the North Andover Middle School field.

Sophomore leadoff batter Michelle Crispo walked, Captain Eileen Sweeney and junior Elaine Licata belted consecutive RBI doubles to center field, Vanessa Blank spanked an RBI single, junior Sue Cookson bounced into a fielder's choice, and junior Meghan "Skippy" Lynch ripped a run-scoring single.

The runners moved up on a passed ball, and the uprising was capped by RBI singles from freshmen Kristi Keller and Noelle Blank.

Andover scored once in the second stanza on a one-out walk to Cookson and RBI double by Lynch.

In the third frame Licata drew a one-out walk, Vanessa Blank clouted an RBI double and the white-hot Lynch drilled a run-producing single. A seven-run fourth inning boosted the lead to 16-0.

Noelle Blank was hit by a pitch, freshman lefty Julie Litzenberger reached on a fielder's choice, Crispo walked, Sweeney walked, Licata walked (RBI), Vanessa Blank was safe on a fielder's choice, Cookson slapped a two-run single to center, Lynch reached on an error, Keller walked, Noelle Blank walked to force home a run, and Litzenberger laced a two-run single.

The final three runs came in the fifth when Sweeney singled, Vanessa Blank walked, Cookson clouted a two-run triple to center, and Keller lashed a run-scoring single. Lynch finished with three hits and three RBI, Cookson contributed two safeties and four ribbies, Keller and Vanessa Blank two hits and two RBI each, and Sweeney two hits to pace the assault.

Cookson also scored four runs while Licata, Sweeney and Vanessa Blank scored three runs each. Defensive standouts were Lynch, who made a running shoestring catch in left field, and shortstop Cookson.

North Andover spoiled Blank's no-hit bid with singles in the second and fourth stanzas.

Andover 5 - Billerica 4 (9 innings)

The Lady Warriors, who knocked off Chelmsford 3-2 earlier this spring when the Lions were ranked No. 2 in the state, played equally well en route to this exciting comeback triumph over a solid Billerica team scratching for a tournament berth.

Vanessa Blank's bases-loaded, no-out single to shallow right field in the bottom of the ninth chased home the deciding run for a much-deserved victory.

Blank went the full nine innings on the mound, scattering eight Indians' hits while striking out five and walking five.

Andover threatened in the bottom of the first inning at the West Middle School field, but didn't score after loading the bases on one-out singles by Michelle Crispo (bunt), Eileen Sweeney and Elaine Licata.

Billerica (8-9) chipped away for one run in the third and two in the fifth to take a 3-0 lead. Andover's juggled lineup, meanwhile, was shut down through the fifth inning by Billerica pitcher Jill Schraffa who allowed only a two-strike single to center field by Sweeney leading off the fourth.

The locals notched their first run in the sixth when lefty Crispo sliced a one-out single to left, and scored on Sweeney's first-pitch double ripped to the gap in left-center.

Meghan Lynch and Kristi Keller had put some chinks in Schraffa's armor by making long outs the previous inning to center and left field, respectively. Licata also followed Sweeney's two-bagger with a vicious line drive out to left.

The Indians moved ahead 4-1 in the top of the seventh, but Andover battled back to tie with three runs in the home half.

Captain Aprille Canniff reached on an infield error, Lynch hung tough before lacing a two-strike single to right field, and Keller chased Schraffa from the mound with a run-scoring single to right-center.

Lynch scored, and everyone was safe, when sophomore Jen Murnane's fielder's choice grounder was misplayed. Moments later Keller raced home with the tying run on a wild pitch.

The Lady Warriors squandered a chance to win the game in regulation, ending the seventh by hitting into an unusual double play that saw the potential deciding run thrown out at home on a grounder to short.

Billerica stranded the go-ahead runner at third base in the eighth, Blank bearing down with one out to retire the heart of the Billerica order on a Jackie MacLean strike-out and Jen McBride pop out to Sweeney at short.

Sweeney opened the Andover eighth with a walk, but was quickly erased on a crisp 6-4-3 double play. Sue Cookson then walked on four pitches but was left stranded. Skippy Lynch greeted reliever Heather Gadourney with a leadoff single to right, and she promptly stole second base. Keller walked, and Murnane beat out an infield hit to load the bases.

Vanessa Blank quickly got herself in an 0-2 hole, fouled off one pitch, and then lifted a soft game-winning opposite-field line drive single over the first baseman's outstretched glove to rescue Lynch and end the marathon.

Sweeney finished the game a perfect 3-0 for-3, while Crispo added two safeties to pace the 10-hit AHS offense.

Third baseman Licata stabbed a line drive and made a fine running catch of a foul pop. Center fielder Cookson gunned down a runner at third base to squash a rally. Blank had four assists on the mound, and Canniff did a masterful job behind the plate on low pitches.

Alexander Billings memorial golf tourney signup is June 1

The fourth annual Alexander M. Billings Memorial Jimmy Fund Golf Tournament will tee off Monday, July 3, at the Andover Country Club. The fund-raiser is being organized by friends and family of Alexander, who died in September 1991, at the age of 2 after a long battle with brain cancer. He was the son of Matthew and Betsy Billings and grandson of Robert and Estelle Billings of Bartlett Street.

Deadline to signup is June 1.

"We have been very fortunate with the first three tournaments, raising over $75,000 for the Jimmy Fund, which is the fund-raising arm of the Dana Farber. Out of 108 Jimmy Fund tournaments in 1994, we ranked 18 in terms of money raised," said Larry Lamagna, one of the organizers.

"It is a perfect day to have some fun, support a very worthy cause and remember little Alex," said Tim Barry, a long-time friend of the family.

The day will include barbecue, golf, cart and dinner; or just dinner for non-golfers. The donation fee is $140 for the full day or $40 for dinner only. Businesses are sponsoring holes for $300. Prizes include round-trip airline tickets for two, weekend getaways, golf clubs and autographed sports memorabilia.

To participate, donate raffle and auction items or sponsor a hole, call Mr. Barry at 475-2033 or Mr. Lamagna at 475-0317.

Volleyball team slams the competition all season, 18-0

Andover rolled to a 15-8, 15-2 non-league triumph at the Dunn Gymnasium.

AHS got off to another slow start, falling behind early in the first game before regrouping and dominating.

Tim Foley was 13-5-18 hitting (five kills) and 12-for-16 serving (four aces).

Sean Croteau finished 17-for-18 hitting (five kills) and 10-for-11 serving (one ace), while Matt Gibson was 7-for-8 hitting (four kills), senior Paul Krasnook 5-for-5 serving, senior Aaryn Schmuhl 13-for-13 serving (five aces), Joe Hogarty 8-for-8 hitting (three kills) and 4-for-4 serving, and Abdul Ortiz 6-for-7 hitting (three kills).

Andover 2
Dracut 0

The Golden Warriors clinched their impressive "three-peat" in overpowering fashion, registering a rare 15-0, 15-0 double shutout over first-year team Dracut at the Middles' gym.

"Everyone played and everyone contributed. We had the second team on the court for the second half of both games," said coach Sullivan.

Aaryn Schmuhl got the lightning-quick half-hour match off to a fast start by serving 10 straight points in the first game. He finished the match 15-for-15 serving with four aces. Tim Foley was 9-for-9 hitting, with six kills, and Sean Croteau 8-for-9 hitting (four kills) and 7-for-8 serving. Joe Hogarty added three kills and a 4-for-5 night hitting, while Pat Hess was 6-for-6 serving with one ace.

Andover JV's

The AHS junior varsity improved to 16-1 with 2-0 sweeps of Brockton, Billerica and Dracut.

In the 15-4, 15-4 romp over Brockton, junior Jon Adams was 6-for-7 serving (one ace), junior Pat "Shark Attack" Sharkey 7-for-9 serving (four aces), junior middle hitter Eric Bourassa 6-for-6 serving, and junior Jeong An 9-for-10 serving (four aces).

The 15-7, 15-4 triumph against Billerica was led by sophomore middle hitter Nick Wilson (five kills), Adams (10-for-14 hitting, five kills), sophomore Zach Gray (7-for-9 hitting), Sharkey (6-for-8 hitting with five kills, 10-for-11 serving) and sophomore Shawn Connors (11-for-11 serving, four aces). The 15-4, 15-7 decision versus Dracut featured solid efforts by Mike Monteiro (5-for-5 serving),

Wilson (8-for-9 hitting, three kills), Bourassa (7-for-7 hitting with two kills, 7-for-8 serving with one ace), Gray (7-for-8 hitting, two kills), An (8-for-10 serving, two aces), Connors (7-for-7 serving) and Adams (7-for-8 serving).

Park Porsche & Audi, Inc.

Park Porsche is the honored recipient of the prestigious New England Porsche Service Cup. This award is offered in recognition of outstanding performance, team effort and consistent excellence of their Parts and Service Departments. Only four, out of 250, dealers in the nation qualified for this award. Park Porsche achieved first in New England. David Moore, New England Porsche Service Representative from Porsche Cars of North America, presented the award on May 19, 1995.

Arthur Park, Jr. is Advisor to the Service Department. As a young boy Arthur stated assisting his father by washing cars. Through the years, he learned to do everything that needed to be done at the dealership, including supervising the body shop. After college he returned to run the Service Department.

Nick Theodorou, Parts Technician, has been with Park Porsche for eight years. Each Porsche part is unique and it is essential that the appropriate part is used for these hand built cars.

Mark Freeman is an expert Service Technician, who started repairing cars when he was only 14 years old and worked his way up by observing and experience.

Park Porsche and Audi, Inc. has served the Merrimack Valley since 1962. The main reason for their longevity is satisfied repeat customers and referrals. The employees are known for their stability and integrity. The highly skilled technicians in the service department and body shop, all A.S.E. certified, continuously attend factory courses to remain updated on the newest technology. They utilize the latest computerized and diagnostic equipment available. Arthur Park, Sr. started the company and is still active along with his sons Arthur, Jr. and Doug. They are dedicated to helping customers maintain their investment.

Park Porsche and Audi is open six days a week. They are located at 222 Lowell Street, Lawrence. Telephone: (508) 686-9743.

Staff at White Street Paint and Wallpaper Company

White Street Paint and Wallpaper Company

Both the Lawrence and the Salem, N.H., locations of White Street Paint and Wallpaper Company continue to offer the good old fashioned service for which they are known. Ira Gold is the third generation of his family to continue the tradition of serving the community with the largest paint and wallpaper selection in the area.

They are both full line dealers of Benjamin Moore Paints, as well as California Paints, Wilber and Williams paints, Cabot stains and their newest line Sikkinks paint. They have an in-store computer that can match paints to your wallpaper or drapery fabric. There is a large selection of in-stock wallpaper, as well as sample books from Kinney, Schumacher, Bowen, Laura Ashley, Albert Van Luit and Katzenbach-Warren and others.

There is a wallpaper consultant on staff to answer questions and help with decisions. She will even make house calls to help with your decorating projects.

The Salem store has a play area, complete with toys, TV and VCR, to keep youngsters occupied while parents browse.

White Street Paint and Wallpaper Company has 44 years of customer service behind their reputation. This dedication to meeting the customers' needs by custom mixing paints, ordering wallpaper and fabrics and delivering the order, earns them many referrals.

For their customers' convenience, White Street Paint and Wallpaper Company offers delivery service to customers in the Merrimack Valley.

White Street Paint and Wallpaper Company is located at 15 Broadway (corner of Essex Street) in Lawrence, telephone: (508) 688-6078 or (508) 683-8694 and in Salem, N.H. at 419 South Broadway (across from Circuit City), telephone: (603) 890-5345 or (603) 890-5346. Hours for both stores are Monday, Wednesday and Thursday 7 a.m. to 5 p.m., Tuesday and Friday 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Saturday 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

SCS Cleaning Systems, Inc.

SCS Cleaning Systems, Inc. is a full service cleaning company. They furnish all the equipment and supplies needed to clean. All supplies are environmentally safe and provided by the company, unless the home owner wishes otherwise.

Each home is assigned one cleaner who, with the approval of the owner, will service the customer as long as that employee is with the company. The home, furnishings and valued possessions are safe in the hands of SCS's well trained employees, who receive two weeks training and have a supervisor monitoring the work. Special requests are taken care of, such as polishing silver and brass, cleaning the oven and refrigerator. A company van provides transportation for the cleaners to ensure that they are on schedule.

A SCS representative will go to the customer's home for a consultation. Their services can be a one time cleaning or on a regular scheduled basis. The very affordable rate is a minimum of $42 for three hours. For example, a small six room house can typically be cleaned for this minimum rate. They will take the responsibility for maintaining the home. The client chooses the times and tasks to be done and SCS does the rest.

SCS Cleaning Systems, Inc. President, Celestina Silva, values professionalism in the residential cleaning business and provides personal service to the client's needs.

They are dedicated to meeting the client's specifications concerning how and when the home is cleaned. They are responsible and thorough.

SCS offers security for the customers who cannot be home when the cleaners arrive. They are fully insured and bonded and are members of the Business Service Contractors Association, International. SCS is also one of the leading industrial janitorial companies. They do carpet, upholstery and drapery cleaning, as well as having a special crew for windows.

To contact SCS Cleaning Systems, Inc., call (603) 894-5595. This is a local number for most Andover residents.

Yokohama Japanese Steak House

The Yokohama Japanese Steak House serves an extensive variety of Japanese and Korean dishes. Fresh fish from Japan and Maine are brought in every two days. Appetizers include over 50 varieties of sushi and sashimi, either as an appetizer or entree. At the sushi bar the customer may choose his own fish and watch the Sushi Chef create his selection. The food is a delight to the eye as well as the palate. The Beef Soup A La Yokohama takes 18 hours to prepare. Beef, poultry and seafood entrees may be ordered, or different combinations of the three. The food is always artistically presented.

The Yokohama Japanese Steak House offers their cuisine in a lively and fun atmosphere.

The diners enjoy the drama of the chef's presentation of a meal prepared at your Teppanyaki table in the finest Japanese tradition. The expertise at food preparation displayed with the "faster than the eye" slicing of the meat and the humor of the chef as he pops a shrimp into his shirt pocket (and sometimes the customer's pocket!) makes for humorous and entertaining dining. The diners are treated to the theatrics of flames igniting as the food is prepared. Teppanyaki is served as both a dinner and a lunch time special.

Manager Jun Jin is dedicated to bringing the customers the finest foods available. The entire menu is available for take out. There is a special children's menu.

Reservations are recommended for the Teppanyaki Room.

The coupon on this page entitles the customer to one free dinner (the least expensive) with an order of four dinner entrees. Offer expires June 20, 1995.

Elder Tenants Council wants improvements

By Alix Driscoll

"I think everybody should be entitled to live a decent life," says Conrad Cutrona, president of the Andover Elder Tenants Council.

Although conventional wisdom, and Tom Wolfe said, "You can't go home again," Mr. Cutrona believes the residents of the four residences for the elderly should be able to live in security. But lurking among the courtyards and byways are some hazards that could endanger the residents of these 218 apartments. Outer doors at Frye Circle lack locks. Uneven pavements and sunken drain covers deter mobility for wheelchair-bound residents and frail seniors. The lack of outside security lights at Frye Circle, where the buildings are tall and angular, permit threatening shadows, Mr. Cutrona says. "And the carpets are wobbly." He says the council is frustrated with pace of repairs, and are actively lobbying for many repairs and improvements, including a lock and intercom system, and a covering over the bus bench, both at Frye Circle.

"We are a city within a city. I have to protect my tenants." So with a zest for making things right, Mr. Cutrona started an elder tenants council two years ago for the residents of Grandview Court, Stowe Court and Chestnut Court, all east of Doherty Middle School, and Frye Circle on North Main Street.

Although he had a successful 25-years career with the Department of Mental Health helping residents of Danvers State Hospital learn independent living skills, when he moved to his Stowe Court residence he felt very vulnerable because his wife had just died.

Gradually he settled in and gathered seniors around him who are leaders to join the council: Audrey Poole, Frye Circle delegate; Charles Waldie, Grandview Terrace delegate; Esther Donohue, Chestnut Court delegate; Janet LaBelle, Stowe Court delegate; Evelyn Gilligan, treasurer and secretary and John Thomson, vice president. Jeannie Cook, of North Andover; a consultant from the Massachusetts Union of Public Housing Tenants, helps work out strategy. Using the democratic process

The council has been taking its safety concerns to the Andover Housing Authority, the elected board for the elderly housing buildings, to Gary Coon, Andover's state representative, and to Paul Bailey the deputy director of the Bureau of Housing Management, of the Economic Office of Community Development, the state agency that oversees the elderly tenant units statewide.

"I've had some people who resented me, but I kept on going," says Mr. Cutrona.

But help is slow and uncertain

Nancy Marcoux, the executive director of the housing complexes, says she applied in the fall for a state modernization grant to make 27 capital and safety improvements to the residences. But only five were approved, not all the repairs the council wants; and the release of money is slow. Most of the Andover money will go to emergency repairs of the septic system, repair of the heating system, repair of electrical problems and new windows for Chestnut Court.

Andover's chunk of the state's one-time $71 million state bond issue for emergency repairs to state-funded housing complexes, $568,000, might not arrive in town until the fall, says Ms. Marcoux. Ron Hajj, the chairman of the Andover Housing Authority says he understands he will not get all the money allocated this year because of state funding cuts.

Rep. Coon says he met with the tenants council last Friday and will be contacting both Ms. Marcoux and AHA to ascertain what progress is being made on the safety issues that concern the seniors. He also says he will soon be contacting state officials for more financial aid to correct the security problems that were not approved for funding.

Next step

The Andover Housing Authority with the assistance of Ms. Marcoux must obtain bids for the separate projects and get the contractors lined up before the state will release the money, says Mr. Bailey.

"It depend on how quickly they (AHA and the executive director moves)... how quickly the money is sent out," he says.

Praise for the elder tenants council

"The Andover Housing Authority is a well-run authority and the tenants group is well-run," says Mr. Bailey. He says he welcomes the elder tenant council's participation.

Members of the Elder Tenants Council and friends relax at the Frye Circle bus stop. The council is working to build a canopy to protect residents from the weather. They are, from left seated, Conrad Cutrona, Florence Haskell, and Eddie Nadeau. Standing are Charles Waldie, Audrey Poole and Jeannie Cook. Mr. Cutrona, Mr. Waldie and Ms. Poole are members of the Elderly Tenants Council for all four Andover residences for the elderly. Ms. Cook is a tenant consultant from the Massachusetts Union of Public Housing Tenants.

Mr. Hajj has words of praise for the ETC. "I believe the tenants should be vocal. They have a lot of enthusiasm. The council gives the tenants a voice in the operation, budget and the hiring of employees. And it keep me informed about needs," says Mr. Hajj.

Better communication needed

"I can't get opportunities to see her (Ms. Marcoux)," says Mr. Cutrona.

Mr. Cutrona says he needs greater communication and cooperation between Ms. Marcoux and the tenants council.

But Ms. Marcoux says she does have good communication and has met with the ETC three or four times in two years. The last meeting was two months ago, she says.

The tenants council has sown friendship

Giant Swiss pansies in planters greet visitors to the Frye Circle brick patio heart of the apartments. Birdhouses invited feathered creatures seeking their own family-oriented apartments. He says these outward expressions of warm and friendship are some of the ways the council is working to improve life for the residents.

Who is eligible to live here?

To enter live at one of the residences for the elderly and handicapped in town, a person may not have an income more than $21,672, with assets limited to $45,864. A couple is limited to $24,768 income with $55,008 in assets.

Among the elderly housing complexes are 25 units (12 percent) with non-elderly people who are disabled in some way. In addition, there are 17 families from the republics of the former Soviet Union.

The Andover Housing Authority gives preference to residents of Andover and people who work here. According to the advertisement in the Townsmen last month, the estimated waiting time for an Andover resident to obtain a unit is up to three months. Residents pay 27 or 30 percent fair housing rent for an apartment. Some pay taxes, depending on a resident's income. The housing complexes were built with state money between 40 and 20 years ago, and are supported by both tenant rents and state grants. A fifth group of residences, Merimack Court, houses 56 families of veterans. The AHA oversees Ms. Marcoux and a staff of six and an annual operating budget of $700,000.

Need a tenant on the AHA

He and his council members, agree it's crucial to have an elderly tenant on the Andover Housing Authority, the five-member governing body, even if this means a change in the town bylaws. Four members are elected by townspeople for five year terms: Ron Hajj, chairman, Jim Cuttichia, Norma Villarreal and newcomer Jason Fox, who was elected in March. The fifth member, Andover resident Hartley Burnham, of Sheridan Road, was appointed by the governor.

"He should be elected by the tenants council... has to be tenant who knows what's going on" says Charles Waldie, delegate from Grandview Terrace.

Mr. Hajj says the ETC can petition the governor and the EOCD to make this happen.

Will these apartments be privatized?

"There is no movement toward that (in the state)," said Mr. Bailey. He said this might happen with some apartments built with federal funds but the four Andover buildings for the elderly were built by the state.

Mainen to Amoskeag Bank, dated January 19, 1987 and Recorded in the Essex County (Northern District) Registry of Deeds in Book 2410, Page 265, of which mortgage the undersigned is the present holder, for breach of conditions contained in said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing, the same will be sold at PUBLIC AUCTION on the mortgaged premises, known and numbered as 1 DEERFIELD WAY, ANDOVER, MASSACHUSETTS, on JUNE 13, 1995 AT 10:00 O'CLOCK A.M., being all and singular the premises described in said mortgage, to wit:

The land with the buildings thereon in Andover, Essex County, State of Massachusetts situated on the southwesterly side of High Plain Road and the westerly side of Deerfield Way and being shown as lot 1 on a "Subdivision and Acceptance Plan - Deerfield Way, Andover, Mass.", October 7, 1983, Andover Consultants, Inc., R. L. S., which plan is recorded at the North Essex Registry of Deeds as Plan #9356 and thus bounded:

1. Northeasterly by said High Plain Road, 196.43 feet;

2. Easterly by said Deerfield Way, 151.98 feet;

3. Southeasterly by lot 2 on said plan, 216.86 feet;

4. Westerly by land now or formerly of George Chonglis, Trustee of Harry Looisigan, 395.18 feet.

Containing 43,560 square feet of land, more or less.

Said premises being the same premises conveyed to Eugene L. Mainen and Barbara K. Mainen by deed of Princeton Place Realty Trust, dated August 8, 1984 and recorded in Book 1849, Page 204, North Essex County Registry of Deeds.

The premises are to be sold subject to and with the benefit of all easements, covenants, restrictions, building and zoning laws, unpaid taxes, tax titles, water bills, municipal liens and assessments, rights of tenants and parties in possession, existing encumbrances and all other claims in the nature of liens having priority over the mortgage, if any there be. The premises are to be sold subject to the right of redemption of the United States of America, if any there be.

The mortgagee reserves the right to postpone the sale to such subsequent time and date as the mortgagee may deem advisable by public proclamation at the time and date appointed for the sale.

TERMS OF SALE: A deposit of Ten Thousand ($10,000.00) Dollars will be required to be paid in cash or by certified check or bank treasurer's or cashier's check by the purchaser at the time and place of sale as earnest money to be held at the option of the mortgagee as liquidated damages for any breach by the buyer. The balance is to be paid in cash or by certified check or bank treasurer's or cashier's check within thirty (30) days thereafter, at which time the deed shall be delivered.

Other terms, if any, to be announced at sale.

Recycle

DO YOU HAVE an item or items that you no longer need, but that would be useful to someone else, something you'd be willing to give away if someone would come get it? For instance: boxes, storm windows, a child's bicycle, cardboard boxes, an old set of dishes. You can list your recyclable items in the Townsman's newest classified section: "RECYCLE" (FREE of charge)! It's a way to clean up your place while acknowledging the world is running out of landfill space. Simply write us listing your recyclables and we'll print them in the paper. No phone calls please.

HELP WANTED

Help Wanted Our Town 1995

"Our Town" is a Selectman-sponsored summer employment program designed to provide young adults the opportunity to work on a variety of town improvement projects. These projects will include the cleaning, repair, upkeep, and beautification of town parks, recreation sites or other town properties.

Funding has been made available for approximately 20 positions. If you are interested in applying for an "Our Town" summer job, you may pick up an application form from your guidance department, principal's office, the Town's Personnel Office, or the Department of Community Services. You may also call 470-3800 x 408 and request an application be sent to you. Applications should be returned to the address below.

Our Town Summer Employment Program
c/o Personnel Office
36 Bartlet Street
Andover, MA 01810

Completed applications must be returned to the Town's Personnel Office by Friday, June 2, 1995.

A lottery will be held to select applications for these positions on Wednesday, June 7, at 7 p.m. in the third floor conference room of the Town Office building.

80 Osage Street, North Andover, Massachusetts

An original post and beam colonial circa 1832 situated proudly across from historic North Andover's Old Center Common. The utmost care and patience has been taken over the years to enhance the antique integrity of this lasting piece of American history. Three fireplaces, gun-stock beams, wide pumpkin pine oak, maple and birch floors with original black-and-white brick bring you back to the early colonial days of hay scales and horse-drawn carriages. Up-dated gas-fired heating system, newer kitchen, baths and security system lets you enjoy the comforts and conveniences of today's lifestyle. The attached 2-story barn with hay bales doors is an architectural dream with limitless possibilities. This one-of-a-kind sits on 1.3 acres of manicured grounds and warmly welcomes all who visit.

Special veterans pin commemorates WWII's 50th anniversary

Andover Post #2128 Veterans of Foreign Wars has obtained special commemorative World War II victory medals. The authentic copy of the famous "Raptured Duck" marks the 50th anniversary of the end of WWII. All WWII veterans or surviving next of kin are eligible to receive this lapel-pin size medal free of charge.

Contact VFW Post #2128 Quartermaster John Doherty at 12 Bartlet St. between 9 a.m. and 1 p.m. Monday through Friday or call 475-3086.

Many tributes scheduled for Memorial Day

Memorial Day in Andover will be a full day of commemorative services, and will include a parade and a skydiving exhibition by the U.S. Army Golden Knights.

Service at West Parish Cemetery

Memorial Day will begin with services at West Parish Cemetery at 7 a.m. The chaplain of Veterans of Foreign Wars Chapter 2128, Andover, will say a prayer and benediction. George Milne, commander of V.F.W., will give the eulogy and John C. Doherty will place a floral tribute. The V.F.W. firing detail will give a rifle salute and Andover High School students Joshua Murphy will play taps and Matthew Hardiman the echo.

St. Augustine Cemetery

A 7:30 a.m. service at St. Augustine Cemetery will consist of a prayer and benediction by a St. Augustine Parish priest and a eulogy by George Milne. John C. Doherty will place a floral tribute.

Members of the VFW firing squad will salute with a volley, followed by taps by Joshua Murphy and echo by Matthew Hardiman.

Spring Grove Cemetery services

At 8 a.m., participants will go to Spring Grove Cemetery for services at the American Legion Monument. The Andover High School band will play the national anthem followed by opening remarks by Thomas Collins of the American Legion.

The Rev. Paul Pantelis, pastor of Sts. Constantine and Helen Greek Orthodox Church, will give the eulogy.

The floral tribute will be placed by Theodore Witman of the American Legion and James J.B. Peters, adjutant of Disabled American Veterans. The First New Hampshire Regiment of the American Legion will give the rifle salute and Joshua Murphy will play taps echoed by Matthew Hardiman.

Marie Elston of Lowell displays a flowering basket ready to hang at your home or business. Loosigian Farms welcomes you to browse through their colorful array of bedding flowers and plants.

In early 1960 a farmer in West Andover had an idea.

The one small glass greenhouse he used during the winter to start his vegetable plants for the field had a little extra space. Why not try to grow a few flowers and see what would happen? That spring he sold the flowers on a trailer in his front yard on River Road.

What happened was the beginning of Pleasant View Farms. That farmer was our father, Harry Loosigian. He and our Uncle John "Archie" Asoian grew what many considered the best flowers and vegetables in the Merrimack Valley.

In 1963 the farm stand was built. You knew spring had arrived when the bedding plants and hanging baskets came out of the greenhouses, which by 1974 totaled nine. A weekly ride out to the "country" to visit Pleasant View Farms was a treat for many who enjoyed the best fresh-picked corn and sun-ripened tomatoes for their weekend cookouts. Sunday mornings seemed to be social gatherings rather than average shopping trips.

Loosigian Farms

In 1975 Harry and his sons, Gregory and John, had another idea. The greenhouses were empty from June to January. They decided to grow poinsettias for Christmas. The poinsettia crop was so successful that not only were we the first to grow them, we have become the largest poinsettia grower in the area.

In April of 1981, Loosigian Farms Garden Center opened just across the river in Methuen, on Route 110. We are open year round and now have over an acre of growing space to supply our retail customers, florists, other garden centers and landscapers with quality plants. In early spring we have Easter lilies, potted tulips, hydrangeas and potted mums. Late April our front greenhouses begin to fill with spring color from our annuals, perennials, vegetables and hanging baskets. Hardy mums are grown for the fall along with an extensive selection of house plants. At Christmas time we have thousands of beautiful poinsettias, Christmas trees, wreaths and other holiday decorations.

Growing up on a farm and now running a family business has taught all of us the meaning of hard work. Much of the year it means working seven days a week. Sometimes that can also mean 24 hours a day when the power goes out, just ask Greg. There are many reasons that we work so hard, one is seeing the end result when the greenhouses are full of healthy plants and thinking we've helped create something beautiful. Our wonderful customers are another reason, they continually tell us how much they appreciate all of our effort. Now we get to listen to their ideas.

Our newspaper ads always say "Our Business Is Growing" and it really is.

By the way, Harry still tries to be the first one to work every day.

A debt to pay on Memorial Day

By Allen F. Kent

More than 100 years ago in 1863, America was in the midst of the most painful time in its history — the Civil War.

On the site of a bloody battle, on the outskirts of Columbus, Miss., a group of women walked among the fresh graves. They carried wildflowers to lay on the graves of their confederate soldiers who were buried there.

As they moved from one grave to another, they noticed another group of graves off to one side. They were clearly the graves of Union soldiers who had died on the same field of battle. With little discussion, they began to lay their flowers on those graves as well.

The healing of a nation began at that point. The compassion of these Southern ladies for those who died fighting against their husbands, fathers and sons gave a clear message that, in death, all are equal.

This small gesture was passed by word of mouth. Union and Confederate soldiers alike were touched by this simple act of honor.

A Union veterans' organization called the Grand Army of the Republic decided to designate a special day to honor the fallen from both sides. The following order was issued:

"The 30th day of May, 1868, is designated for the purpose of strewing with flowers or otherwise decorating the graves of comrades who died in defense of their country during the late rebellion, and whose bodies now lie in almost every city, village and hamlet churchyard in the land.

"Their soldier lives were the reveille of freedom to a race of chains and their deaths a tattoo (drumbeat) of rebellious tyranny in arms. We should guard their graves with sacred vigilance."

New York was the first state to set aside this day for specific remembrance of those fallen in battle. In 1873, they passed a law designating May 30 as Decoration Day.

In 1882, the holiday was adopted across the United States and renamed "Memorial Day." In 1973, Memorial Day was officially established as the last Monday in May.

As we approach another Memorial Day, we find our nation at peace. Americans have little concern about war or even rumors of war. On Memorial Day, the sky will likely be clear and most of us will have the day off to enjoy a long weekend. All of us, even veterans, will have a tendency to enjoy the day without a thought to those who should be remembered.

These are the ones who never married their sweethearts, never saw their children play, never went back to school or pursued their dream careers. For them and the families

Gas grill cleaning tips for another season of backyard barbecues

There it is...behind the lawnmower, next to the stacks of paint cans, in the far recesses of the garage. It's your trusty gas grill, and it's time to wheel it out for another year of food and fun. But first, a word to the wise...a little elbow grease will help keep that grill operating efficiently for years to come. One of the country's oldest manufacturer of grills offers this advice on the cleaning and maintenance of your gas grill:

- Be sure the gas is off at the LP tank and the control knob.

- You should clean the interior of the grill and that means taking it apart. It's going to get messy so you might want to spread some newspapers around your work area.

- Disconnect the igniter wires and wrap them in foil to protect them. Scrub the inside top and bottom with soapy water and a brush. Use a nylon or plastic pad on the grids; remember that some grease left on the grids is good for them. It helps preserve the metal.

- When the scrubbing is done, remove the foil from the wires.

- Now check the burner for cracks. If you see any, replace the burner. If you don't see any, use your hose to force water through the venturi tube (the flexible extension from the burner). Over the winter, insects may have nested in the gas tubes and created obstructions which could prevent proper gas flow. If water doesn't flow out of all the burner ports, open the clogged ones with a wire.

- Once everything dries in the sun, reassemble the grill.

- Now check your automatic igniter. If it no longer sparks, clear the tip of the electrode (the spark plug-like piece) with rubbing alcohol. Let it dry. If it still doesn't spark, replace it.

- If you decide to paint the exterior, sand it lightly and wash it first. Paint it with heat resistant paint and allow it to dry before you use the grill.

- Finally, test the LP tank for leaks. Turn on the gas at the tank and brush a 50/50 water and soap solution on the connections between the valve, regulator, hose and tank. If bubbles appear there's a gas leak and you must replace the part that's leaking.

Replacement parts are available at many of the same retailers who sell grills. Some parts have a specific grill brand name, but these are universal parts and things like burners and igniters fit most brands of grills. Carefully read the labels and you'll find the right part for your grill.

Why the U.S. should support the United Nations

There are five reasons, experts say, why the peacekeeping efforts of the United Nations are good for Americans.

1. Burden sharing: UN peace-keeping lets other countries shoulder a large part of the responsibility for maintaining peace in the world.

2. UN peace-keeping works. The UN's Blue Helmets won the Nobel Peace Prize and have brought peace and democracy to many places.

3. UN peace-keeping is cost-effective. The UN's entire peace-keeping operations around the world cost three billion dollars a year.

4. UN peace-keeping is much less expensive than the alternative: war.

5. Undermining peace-keeping is dangerous to the US. If UN peace-keeping is gutted by a withdrawal of US funds, at least some of the flames the UN is unable to douse could lick at our door.

For these and other reasons, many Americans are urging their legislators to continue support for the UN. Anyone can write Congress on this or any issue at the U.S. Senate, Washington, D.C. 20510 and the House of Representatives, Washington, D.C. 20515.

student at Doherty Middle School student. Clan McPherson will play the hymn Amazing Grace and Charles Aloviseti, a student at Doherty Middle School, will recite The Gettysburg Address. "Ashokan Farewell" will be performed by Iain Hamilton, Kelly Deyermund, Juliet Grabowski and Rose Grabowski.

Admiral Thomas Marfiak, Commander of Cruiser Destroyer Group 5, is scheduled to give the main address.

Following "America the Beautiful," performed by the Andover High School Band, Dr. Larry Larsen, chairman of the Andover Board of Selectmen, will present Distinguished Service awards. James J.B. Peters, adjutant of D.A.V., and Thomas Murphy of the American Legion, will place commemorative wreaths followed by a benediction by Rev. Paul Pantelis, volley by First New Hampshire Regiment and taps and echo by Joshua Murphy and Matthew Hardiman.

Army skydiving performance

The U.S. Army Parachute Team, the Golden Knights, will jump from 12,000 feet and fly through the skies. They are scheduled to perform at 1 p.m. on the Playstead baseball field behind Doherty Middle School on Bartlet Street. The team will make its grand entrance Sunday, May 28, at 2 p.m. with a "mass exit" free-fall arrival jump of all 12 parachutists at the Lawrence Municipal Airport in North Andover. The Golden Knights have won nearly 1200 national and 22 world parachuting championship titles. Their performance is sponsored by the Andover Marriott, Budget Rent-a-Car and the town of Andover.

they left behind, we must pause during our picnics and gatherings. We must pause, if only for a moment, to remember their sacrifices. If they could speak they would likely say, "Make the most of your freedom and privileges. We purchased them with our lives."

I guess we owe them at least that much. I am sure they would ask for no more.

Memorial Day service to honor Rear Adm. James G. Prout III

The Memorial Day service will be dedicated to Rear Admiral James G. Prout III, who died last week and was to be the featured speaker at Memorial Auditorium.

Organizer John Lewis said that guests at the 10:15 a.m. May 29 ceremony will include Adm. Prout's brother, Terrence, and sisters Moira Prout Kelleher and Sheila Prout all of Andover and Claire Prout of Portsmouth, N.H.

Admiral Thomas Marfiak, Commander of Cruiser Destroyer Group 5 out of San Diego, has offered to speak in Admiral Prout's place.

Mercedes E-Class line sets value standard for luxury cars

The Mercedes-Benz E-Class line of full-size luxury cars continues to be heralded as the engineering benchmark for the entire automotive industry. Increasingly, it's also singled out as the value standard in its highly competitive market segment.

The 1995 E-Class line provides a range of models for diverse lifestyles: the V8-powered E420 sedan is the E-Class flagship, while the E320 — powered by a 3.2 liter six-cylinder gasoline engine — is available in sedan, coupe, station wagon, and cabriolet body styles.

Rounding out the line is the fuel-efficient E300 Diesel, which features the longest cruising range of any automobile sold in the U.S. With a highway fuel mileage estimate of 32 miles per gallon and a 24-gallon fuel tank, the E300 Diesel can go 750 miles between fill-ups. It's also the first production car to use four-valve technology in a diesel engine. Not only does this advanced design provide more combustion air to the engine, but it also makes possible a centrally-located injector and pre-chamber for more complete combustion and additional power. The four-valve engine enables the E300 Diesel to meet stringent 1995 emissions standards in all 50 states, making it the only diesel-powered car available nationwide.

For '95, all E-Class models come

The Mercedes-Benz E-Class line of full-size luxury cars has been called "the engineering benchmark of the automotive industry" and the E320 sedan (top) is most popular E-Class model. The 1995 E-Class line features a full line of body style, including several sedans as well as a station wagon (bottom view), coupe or cabriolet. Engine choices range from a fuel-efficient diesel to a high-performance V8.

with turned-finish eight-hole alloy wheels and all-season tires. The E320 Station Wagon gets a standard-equipment luggage cover (previously a $470 option), and the E320 Cabriolet now has standard heated front seats (a $550 option last year) for those cool evening drives with the top down.

All E-Class models are fully equipped with safety and convenience features such as dual airbags, ETR emergency tensioning seat belt retractors, ABS brakes, CFC-free automatic climate control, power windows, central locking, and cruise control. Leather upholstery is standard in all models except the E320 wagon and E300 Diesel sedan, and options include ASR electronic traction control and an integrated cellular phone.

Like all Mercedes-Benz models, the E-Class line is covered by a four-year/50,000-mile bumper-to-bumper warranty. In addition, all Mercedes cars are covered by the Mercedes-Benz 24-hour Roadside Assistance Program. This peace of mind can include a free tire change, jump start or a few gallons of fuel, even for those driving a Mercedes produced decades ago.

Smith Motor Sales, 455 River St., Haverhill, the largest exclusive Mercedes-Benz dealer north of Boston, is eager to serve you. Stop in and test drive an E-Class luxury car today.

Preserving the veterans' health care system

By Allen F. Kent

The veterans among us could benefit from health care eligibility reform in a number of ways, and letters to Congress can help make this reform happen. Anyone can write Congress on this or any issue at the U.S. Senate, Washington, D.C. 20510 and the House of Representatives, Washington, D.C. 20515.

In this country today, some 24 million veterans are denied access to the VA health care system. The rules governing who may use the system are complicated, outdated and unfair to both veterans and taxpayers. Eligibility reform, the simplification and liberalization of the criteria governing the VA health care system, is the central and predominant VFW legislative objective.

The major objectives of the VFW are to provide all veterans access to a full continuum of VA health care services while at the same time improve the quality of those services.

The Department of Veterans Affairs has suffered from chronic underfunding through the years, failing to even keep pace with medical inflation and the changing needs of the veteran population. The system has been forced to ration care, delay and even deny services, curtail medical treatment and forgo the modernization of facilities.

Meanwhile, veterans who are fortunate enough to access the system are often provided expensive inpatient service only, rather than more cost-effective and compassionate outpatient and preventive care.

Under eligibility reform, VA would provide cost-effective state-of-the-art healthcare to veterans who would in any event, get medical service at government expense. This represents a win/win situation for veterans and the American taxpayer.

For reform to succeed, VA must be authorized by law to both collect and retain funds collected from third-party payers, including Medicare and Medicaid, as well as private health insurers. Both Congress and the Administration must commit to not offsetting third-party collections from the VA's annual appropriation.

Fortunately, eligibility reform would produce additional savings. Currently, the minimum funding level to meet acute needs for VA medical care in 1996 is expected to be $20.8 billion. Improvements associated with eligibility reform, such as increased use of ambulatory care as well as preventive medicine, however can reduce this amount to $16.1 billion.

Within the context of national health care reform, Congress should ensure that any national health care plan retains the Department of Veterans Affairs Health Administration as a separate, independent and exclusive health care option for America's veterans.

Another issue the VFW strongly supports is the enactment of legislation to eliminate the present dollar-for-dollar offset of military retired pay when the retirees are also in receipt of VA disability compensation. This regulation has been around since the Civil War era.

The VFW also adamantly opposes any attempt by the federal government to cap or diminish entitlements earned by veterans, whether provided to them or to their families. Veterans programs and entitlements should not be subjected to across-the-board federal spending reductions.

For free brochures about becoming a member of VFW, write: Veterans of Foreign Wars, National Headquarters, Broadway at 34th St., Kansas City, MO 64111.

Allen F. Kent is Commander-In-Chief Veterans of Foreign Wars (VFW)

Audi A6 achieves highest possible safety test

A 1995 Audi A6 sedan has achieved the best possible NHTSA crash test ratings, with five stars for both driver and passenger occupants, according to test results recently announced by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration.

The 1995 Audi A6 tests highest in safety test ratings.

The Audi A6 is the first and currently only import vehicle sold in the U.S. to receive a dual five-star rating under NHTSA's New Car Assessment Program (NCAP).

NHTSA reports its crash test results using a range of one to five stars, with five stars indicating the best crash protection for vehicles. Head and chest injury data are combined in the rating system and represent a vehicle's relative level of crash protection in a head-on collision.

NCAP's data is collected when test vehicles are crashed into a fixed barrier at 35 mph with instrumented dummies registering impact forces during the crash. The force is equivalent to a head-on collision between two identical vehicles, each moving at 35 mph.

The 1995 Audi A6 is a family size luxury car built in Ingolstadt, Germany, and is the German automaker's top-selling model in the United States. Standard safety features include driver and passenger airbags that work in conjunction with Audi's front seat-belt tensioning system, which pulls the front belts tight within milliseconds of a frontal collision.

Like all Audis sold in the U.S., the A6 comes with standard ABS brakes and employs reinforced side structures that meet U.S. Government 1997 side impact standards. The A6 is also designed with energy absorbing crumple zones in the front and rear to help protect the integrity of the passenger cabin in the event of a collision.

See and test drive the Audi A6 at Park Audi, 222 Lowell Street, Lawrence. For information, please call (508) 686-9743.

If The Road Is A Refrigerator, This Is The Magnet.

Let's cut past the technology behind the 90 Quattro and state it simply: Quattro makes you feel like you're glued to the road. You feel confident on wet curves or patches of ice or gravel. ♦ It's all-wheel drive with a "brain" which imitates the relationship between a refrigerator and a magnet. ♦ Neither BMW nor Mercedes has Quattro. Or front-wheel drive. Or another feature that sticks. A 3-year or 50,000-mile no-charge scheduled maintenance plan whether you lease or buy. ♦ Which could save you enough money to buy a major home appliance or two.

The New 90 Quattro. Lease from $399 per month $500 down *Audi 90 Quattro: $999.00 down, $399.00 1st month's rent, $400.00 refundable security deposit and $450.00 acquisition fee due at lease inception. 36-month closed-end lease. Rate based on $28,120 MSRP of 90 Quattro, miles and manual transmission, power windows & destination charge. Monthly payments total $14,304. Option to purchase at lease end for $14,876. In example shown. At lease end, lessee responsible for $10,000 over 30,000 miles, for damage and excess wear, and for a $250.00 disposal fee.
